A brief exodus

Am Echod brings century-old Torah scrolls to Lindenhurst

By BRENDA BALIN
bbalin@lakelandmedia.com

Although the march from Waukegan to Lindenhurst took only seven hours, as opposed to the 40-year exodus of the Israelites from Egypt to Palestine, it was a journey in time as much as in space.

At 6:30 a.m., on Aug. 15, members of the 108-year-old Jewish congregation, Lake County's oldest, began a procession carrying a wooden replica of the Ark of the Covenant. The original was reputed to have carried the tablets containing the Ten Commandments from Mt. Sinai to their final resting place in the temple built by King Solomon.

The replica, made of wood, with "golden" angels mounted on its lid, was made by Albert Fuchs, a member of the congregation. He went online to research the construction of the legendary casket. He made it to the same dimensions, with minor changes.

This time, the Ark carried the congregation's Torah scrolls—the handwritten scripture known as the Pentateuch (or, commonly, the Old Testament). Of the three large scrolls, two are over 100 years old, and were made in Europe. All are carefully hand-written by trained scribes. If even a single character is incorrectly formed, the scroll is not usable.

As the procession reached its destination, the doors of the new temple in Lindenhurst, members of the congregation carried the Torah scrolls in their arms, as a small band of musicians, playing traditional "Klezmer" style music, preceded them.

This would be the third "permanent" home for the congregation, the first ever to locate in Lake Villa Township. Congregation Am Echod started in 1896, in a storefront on Lake Street in Waukegan. It was founded by a small group of immigrants who wanted to work, pray and build a community together. They called their new congregation Am Echod, which means "one people."

The congregation's first permanent home was a Moorish-inspired temple built on Sheridan Road in 1928. It was demolished in 1973, five years after the congregation moved to a larger, more modern structure on Sunset Avenue.

In 1992, as its population aged and dwindled while young families were locating to the west, the congregation began a satellite location called Am Echod West. At first, it met at B.J. Hooper Elementary School, in Lindenhurst.

In 1998, the congregation rented space in a building behind the Waterford Commons strip mall.

In 2001, the Sunset Avenue temple was sold, and in August 2003, just 51 weeks before moving the Torah scrolls into their new home, the congregation broke ground for the new building on Falling Waters Boulevard.

"I said we'd be in here in time for the High Holy Days (Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, this year on Sept. 16 and 25)," said congregation president Ben Goldstein.

Although very modern in form and function, the new building's façade has a row of faux arches, a subtle reference to the Sheridan Avenue building.

In another nod to the past, the door to a small private chapel is from the original Sheridan Road building.

The new building, which includes a flexible sanctuary/social hall, a small chapel, a fully-equipped kosher kitchen, a library and five classrooms, was built for future expansion, with land to either side where additional wings could be added later.

the first congregation. Samuel Schwartz, Waukegan's mayor from 1900-10, was Am Echod's first president. The first officers included Treasurer Meyer Kubelsky, who, with his brother Jacob, operated a clothing store on Genesee. Kubelsky, who served as president of the congregation in 1898, had a son named Benjamin, later famous as comedian Jack Benny.

Members of the congregation have included several Assistant State's Attorneys, including the first, Sid Block.

'No child' homeless idea

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

For the second year, since the State of Illinois required the Prairie State Achievement Examination (PSAE), high school juniors in Community High School District 117 have met the requirements set forth by the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) in compliance with the federal No Child Left Behind Act, overall based on preliminary figures. For the second year, two sub-groups barely large enough to be officially considered in the rating (40 individuals being the minimum) did not: the disabled and the IEP (Independent Education Plan, i.e. special ed).

Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) is determined by the ISBE, in part, by the percentage of students who meet or exceed grade level standards for reading and math. In both 2003 and 2004, 40 percent of students had to achieve at or above level for the district (specifically Antioch Community High School, as Lakes Community High School opens this fall) to have made AYP. Looking at the numbers for all students, this happened with 57.8 percent meeting or exceeding in reading and 51.5 percent meeting or exceeding in mathematics.

In the sub-group titled "disabled" that includes both physical and mental disabilities of all types, 17.3 percent of the total of 69 students met or exceeded standards for reading, and 10.1 percent for mathematics. In the sub-group titled "IEP," 16.1 percent of a total of 62 students met or exceeded standards for reading and 8.1 percent for mathematics.

Because of these numbers, District 117 has to provide a "school choice transfer option" to be in compliance with the No Child Left Behind Act. Superintendent Jay Sabatino will present the PSAE district summary along with a draft

Neumann Homes final plat tied to water

Village educates public on water policy

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Neumann Homes will have to drill a well with a 1 million gallon capacity for its final plat of Clublands 3 to be allowed. Concerns over whether there would be adequate water to service the area prompted a vote by the board of directors of the village to tie any further permits to Neumann Homes with an "action plan" that will set milestones.

Village staff and Neumann Homes representatives anticipate that this action plan will be ready for board review by its next regular meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Chris Nyberg, village engineer, said Smith Engineering (consulting firm for the village) had looked at production of the village's current wells and determined how many homes could be accommodated if the largest well "went down" for any reason. He said that number of homes is 300 more than what the village currently has, and that those homes have already been permitted.

George Sakas, senior planner, said he had done analysis of the permit load and that the number was 295.

Though Neumann Homes was specifically targeted and put "on hold" in this action, Trustee Bob Caulfield noted that it's an issue of permits in general and that Neumann Homes isn't the only developer adding to the growth of the village.

Trustee Scott Pierce asked about water conservation strategy and whether or not residents are being educated of village policy.

Nyberg said, "We make a sincere effort to get them (developers and homeowners) to comply."

Though the village has always had a policy about lawn sprinkling, this year it created an ordinance.

The stated need of the ordinance is "the maintenance of a safe, sufficient and reliable source of water..."

The restrictions are effective June 1 through Sept. 15 of any given year. Lawn sprinkling is prohibited from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. throughout this time period.

Beyond that, those living at even-numbered addresses may use exterior water on even-numbered calendar days while those living at odd-numbered addresses may use exterior water on odd-numbered days.

Screening can reduce risk of stroke

A good way to reduce the risk of stroke is to take 10 minutes to assess the risk of stroke and vascular disease.

Residents living in and around Antioch can register for an appointment for risk assessment when Life Line Screening comes to St. Stephen Lutheran Church on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Screenings include a carotid artery screening, abdominal aortic aneurysm screening and ankle brachial index. Bone density screenings to assess risk of osteoporosis are also offered.

The tests it conducts are non-invasive, painless ultrasound screenings. Each takes about 10 minutes.

A board certified physician reviews results of each test to ensure accuracy of the results before they are mailed to the individual.

Anyone over the age of 40 is encouraged to participate. This program is open to the public. Each of the three vascular tests is $45. Complete vascular screening is $99.

Osteoporosis screening is an additional cost.

Pre-registration is required. Early morning appointments are said to fill first.

For more information and to schedule an appointment, call 800-407-4557.

St. Stephen is located at 1155 Hillside Ave., Antioch.

its fall session. Classes are being offered in watercolor, acrylic, colored pencil, drawing and woodcarving.

Workshops include encaustic painting (painting with wax), stained glass and photography. Youth classes for 7- to 14-year-olds offer a sampling of mediums. Registration forms and class descriptions are available at the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation Gallery, which is located at 983 Main St.

The foundation's faculty includes award-winning artists and contemporary craftsmen from northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. In sponsoring these classes, the foundation hopes to further its goal of promoting visual arts by affording area residents the opportunity to develop artistic skill in various mediums.

Antioch Fine Arts Foundation is a not-for-profit organization, dedicated to furthering the creative efforts of its members while spreading knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts. This is accomplished by providing an environment which fosters interaction with other artists and the community through public display of members' artwork coupled with art demonstrations, classes and workshops.

The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. Original art on display at the gallery includes works in watercolor, acrylics, digital art, glass, ceramic, wood sculpture, woodturnings and a variety of other mediums.

While donations are graciously accepted, admission to the gallery is free. For additional information, call 847-838-2274.

who took the position in 1920.

Prominent names to be found on the past and present membership rosters include the Diamond, Porett, Pickus and Rose families, among others that have made significant contributions to Lake County over the years.

At its peak, Am Echod counted 350 families among its members. The congregation's membership now numbers 125 families. Over 200 people attended dedication ceremonies for the new building.

Officiating at the dedication, Goldstein noted that he was the third generation in his family to hold the office of congregation president.

Joseph Temaner, one of the oldest members of the congregation, known for opening all speeches with "There are good days, and there are bad days..." found his thunder stolen as Lindenhurst Mayor Jim Betustak preceded him during the ceremonies, and "borrowed" the phrase in his congratulatory remarks.

Temaner's great-grandson, Patrick, also addressed the congregation, opening with the same phrase. All four generations of Temaners carried the Torahs for the first leg of its journey from Waukegan.

The passing of tradition was a theme throughout, as Tyler Dennen, 10, of Gurnee, blew the shofar, a ram's horn, alongside longtime congregation member Dr. Irwin Menachof.

Tyler, who said he started learning how to blow the horn because he "liked the sound of it," did a credible job, although he began learning just a couple of months ago.

At the dedication, Tyler's father, Andrew, played guitar along with Mark Nelson and clarinetist David Woolf.

The congregation, now led by Rabbi Ze'ev Harari, had no ordained rabbi at first, with services led by teachers or a shocheh (kosher butcher). This was not a problem, as the word "rabbi" means "teacher," and communal prayers may be led by anyone familiar with liturgy. The first ordained rabbi was installed in 1897.

For many years, the congregation followed Orthodox tradition. As the congregation changed, it adopted somewhat more modern Conservative rites.

In 2001, the congregation voted to make the transition to Reform, to accommodate young families that no longer followed Orthodox or Conservative traditions.

In his closing remarks, quoting a story from the Midrash (Jewish commentaries that predate the 13th century), Rabbi Harari described how fortress windows would be broad on the inside and narrow on the outside, to let in light.

"In the temple, it is the reverse," he said. "The windows are broad on the outside, so the light can flow out and illuminate the world."

Services will be held at the temple on Fridays, at 7:30 p.m., and Saturdays, at 10 a.m. for more information, call 847-336-9110.

Garden hoses may be used to water individual plants or to wash cars, on the appropriate days, provided a shut-off nozzle is used to prevent continual discharge.

New lawns, seeding or sodding, may be established, though the village engineer must approve an alternate water source in writing.

Fines for second violations within one calendar year are $50. Third and subsequent fines are $100.

Sakas said the Smith Engineering milestones with regard to permits and water capacity are "absolute drop dead" guidelines that must be met.

NO CHILD

form of the transfer option application to the board of education at its next regular meeting.

Sabatino said, "The first choice is a different school within the district. Because Lakes is just starting, we really don't have that option here, yet. I've checked with other schools in the area including Warren, Grayslake and Grant, but those districts are in the same boat as 117."

Sabatino, along with other educators, takes issue with the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) in a couple of areas. Some districts in Illinois are reportedly rejecting federal funding because of the stringent provisions of the act.

"PSAE is made of the ACT and other standardized tests," Sabatino said. "Part of the problem is that the ACT was never meant to be used the way it is now. It was meant to be a sorting mechanism for students choosing to go to college. A score of 28 or 30 meant you could get into Northwestern, while a score of 23 might get you into Northern Illinois."

The other area of concern is that the school choice transfer option has the potential to become a giant shell game.

Sabatino said that schools with fewer than 40 individuals in any given sub-group that includes gender and racial categories, as well economic status and disabilities, are flying under the radar. This allows for the possibility that students could be transferred to schools that may have fewer than the minimum in a sub-group, but that may have no better means to address the needs of the students.

Additionally, he said, guidelines have been set that make family income level the primary determining factor in transfers. "Priority is given to low-income families," Sabatino said. "The first tier is low-income and low-achieving in reading and math. Then it goes to low-income and low-achieving in reading or math, and so on down the line."

Sabatino said issues are likely to get more complicated as requirements will become more stringent within the next decade.

He said, "For this year, it was 40 percent (for AYP). Next year, that number goes up to 47.5 percent. By 2007 it will be 55 percent and 2014 it will be 100 percent. I think the statistics, right now, are that one in four adults has a bachelor's degree. That's telling."

Finally, while PSAE tests students in writing, science and social science in addition to reading and mathematics, a message from State Superintendent Robert Schiller dated Aug. 6 stated, "ISBE is barred from assessing students beyond the subject areas required under No Child Left Behind. NCLB currently includes reading and math, with science becoming a required subject area to be assessed in 2006. This change is effective immediately. Therefore the 2005 state assessments will not include the writing and social science assessments."

This is reportedly the result of the $6.3 million budget cut to the ISBE budget in the area of assessment.

Digging in the dirt

Helmut Stockdreher plans and plants for year around color, beauty

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

There is no secret to having beautiful gardens, just work, said Helmut Stockdreher, a Woods of Antioch resident.

He said this is the first year his yard and gardens look the way he envisioned they would when he moved in eight years ago. "I finally have it the way I visualized it," he said.

Stockdreher said the amount of work is manageable, about eight hours per week. He said the workload equals out because things like pruning fruit trees can (and should) be done in the winter, while other tasks like planning annuals are done well into spring.

Additionally, Stockdreher allows his grass to go dormant during dry summers, and does not mulch. He said he prefers the look of the natural ground.

"The important thing is to keep up with the work," he said. "Don't let the weeds take over. Also, you have to train things. I tie down different plants and branches to get the shapes going the way I want."

Stockdreher said he organizes the gardens throughout his yard so their colors and textures blend for eye appeal during every season. He marks where perennials are located so he doesn't disturb roots or bulbs when he adds annuals to the mix.

"To me, grass is like the carpet in the house; it's for walking on," he said. "My plants and flowers are the furniture."

Though he doesn't have an exact count, Stockdreher said he knows he has at least 60 different varieties of plants and flowers. He said, "I do it for myself, and so the neighbors will enjoy it. I also love the birds, gold finches and wrens, and I think they like my yard."

Stockdreher, who was born in East Prussia (now Poland), said he learned an appreciation of a beautiful yard at an early age. "My mother had lots of flowers, and a honeysuckle hedge that the birds loved," he said. "I've always loved this."

Before moving to Antioch, Stockdreher lived in Chicago, where he was known as the petunia man. He said he was fortunate to have been able to bring some quartz rocks that originally came from Arkansas, and special lighting from Chicago to Antioch.

"The person who bought my house there wasn't as interested (in the gardens) and told me I could take whatever I wanted out of the yard, so I took some things that were special to me," he said.

Night or day, summer or winter, Stockdreher's efforts are outstanding to passersby.

"I've been told I have a green thumb," he said. "I don't know about that, but it is often brown from digging in the dirt."

Sequoit Creek volunteers welcome

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Lee Shannon, public safety inspector and emergency management coordinator for the Village of Antioch, figures there will be somewhere between 200 and 2,000 volunteers for the Aug. 21 Sequoit Creek clean-up, but doesn't want to dissuade others from joining in at the last minute.

"We need all the help we can get, and won't turn anybody away," he said. "There is a ton of work that needs to be done from heavy work to serving food and water. There is something everyone can do."

Shannon said applications are mandatory and those for minors require adult signatures. Applications are available at Village Hall and at the Main Fire Station on Orchard, as well as at the registration area on the day of the clean up.

Set up and registration begins at 6:30 a.m. at the Antioch Upper Grade School located on Highview Drive off of Tiffany. Work will begin at 7 a.m. and will end at 4 p.m.

The goal is to clear, clean and cut around Sequoit Creek and remove 11 dams that block its flow in several locations. The work will begin on the north side of the bridge at Route 173, and work its way back.

Shannon said response has been outstanding, with all village departments agreeing to help, including police, fire and rescue, as well as the Antioch Township Highway Department, Community Consolidated District 34, Fox Waterway Agency and the Stormwater Management Commission.

"Everybody with heavy machinery has volunteered their time to help us do this," Shannon said.

Despite that, he said more chainsaws, and people who can operate them, are needed.

He recommends volunteers wear jeans and boots, minimally. Food and water and other "re-hydrating liquids" will be provided.

"Gloves are a good idea for people who don't want to ruin their hands," Shannon said. "There's a lot of thorny stuff out there."

Last-minute volunteers can show up to registration on Aug. 21, with identification.

No alcoholic beverages will be allowed.

District 34 announces free-lunch policy

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 announced its policy for free lunches for those students unable to pay the full price for meals.

To receive this special meal service, students must meet the federal guidelines and the meals must meet the requirements established by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture (exceptions are made for those with a disability requiring a special meal prescribed by a physician).

The following criteria will be used to determine eligibility for free lunches. As an example, meals are available to those with a household size of two and an annual income of $16,237, or a weekly income of $392. Free meals are available to those with a household size of four and an annual income of $24,505, or a weekly income of $472.

Applications are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. Additional forms are available in the principal's office.

All applicable questions should be answered. An incomplete application cannot be processed and approved by the school.

Households that currently receive food stamps or TANF (temporary assistance for needy families) for the children need only list the name of the children and the food stamp or TANF case number and sign the application.

All other households must provide the following information: names of all household members; the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word "none" if the adult does not have a Social Security number; the amount of income each household member received last month and where it came from (wages, child support, etc.) and the signature of an adult household member.

The school or other officials may verify this information at any time during the school year.

The school must be notified in the event of a change in household income of $50 per month or $600 per year, or if the household size decreases. Additionally, families must notify the school if they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their children.

This program may be applied for at any time within the school year as a situation or situations change, making a household eligible. In certain cases, foster children are eligible for these meals regardless of household income.

Households have the right to a fair hearing if dissatisfied with the ruling, and this can be done by calling or writing Victoria Cullinan, associate superintendent for business and auxiliary services, 800 N. Main St., Antioch, IL 60002, 847-838-8401.

Goin' Hollywood style

It's not just Antiochians that favor the village's small town ambiance.

Long Island Productions and MGM Pictures asked, and have been granted, the use of Main Street for portions of the remake of "The Amityville Horror."

Brady Breen, location manager, said, "We want to get some views of what we believe is a great looking town." He said the production would stay true to the 70s era with funky clothes and muscle cars.

We know from past FridayFest events that residents have both of those in spades (if anyone has the notion of being an extra).

Breen said the filming should take about one-half of a day, and would likely be done post-morning rush hour on Sept. 9.

There was nothing scary about the mayor and the village board honoring the Antioch Aces 2003-04 state champions.

This is the second year running that the now 11-year-olds took the Little League title. On the roster for this year are Jessica Richter, Melissa Marra, Andi Potkonjak, Olivia Duehr,

St. Peter hosts back-to-school social

St. Peter School students in Antioch, along with their families, will enjoy an old-fashioned Ice Cream Social to kick off the new school year on Sunday, Aug. 22. Beginning at 12:30 p.m., the St. Peter School Family Association treats the students to ice cream sundaes.

It's a time for students to reacquire themselves with school friends they may not have seen during the summer months, as well as to locate new classrooms. Families may pick up pre-ordered school supply kits, which students will need on the first day of school, Tuesday, Aug. 24.

The event will be held in the St. Peter School gymnasium, also known as the Father Hanley Center.

For more information, call the school at 847-395-3900.

District 117 announces free-lunch policy

Community High School District 117 announced its policy for free lunches for those students unable to pay the full price for meals.

To receive this special meal service, students must meet the federal guidelines and the meals must meet the requirements established by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture (exceptions are made for those with a disability requiring a special meal prescribed by a physician).

The following criteria will be used to determine eligibility for free lunches. Households that currently receive food stamps or TANF (temporary assistance for needy families) for the children need only list the name of the children and the food stamp or TANF case number and sign the application.

All other households must provide the following information: names of all household members; the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word "none" if the adult does not have a Social Security number; the amount of income each household member received last month and where it came from (wages, child support, etc.); the signature of an adult household member.

The school or other officials may verify this information at any time during the school year.

The school must be notified in the event of a change in household income of $50 per month or $600 per year, or if the household size decreases. Additionally, families must notify the school if they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their children.

This program may be applied for at any time within the school year as a situation or situations change making a household eligible. In certain cases, foster children are eligible for these meals regardless of household income.

Households have the right to a fair hearing if dissatisfied with the ruling, and this can be done by calling or writing Bill Ahlers, business manager, 1625 Deep Lake Road, Suite A, Lake Villa, IL 60046, 847-838-7141.

SCHOOL DIGEST

Coalition helps provide school supplies

In conjunction with the Open Arms Mission Food Pantry and the 100% Foundation, the One For All Coalition is sponsoring a school supply collection to benefit children in Lake County that need assistance with fulfilling their school supply list.

Boxes will be assembled and delivered to The Foster Care Division of DCFC in Lake County, Open Arms Mission and the Antioch and Lake Villa school districts. The goal is to supply 3 to 500 supply kits.

The following supplies are in need: crayons, markers, pencils, glue, glue sticks, rulers, small pencil sharpeners, scissors, erasers, folders, pencil boxes, pens, paper, clear tape, spiral notebooks and small back packs.

Supplies can be brought to Open Arms Mission or the Antioch Village Hall. For more information, call Scott Keenan at 847-254-5251.

Oakland welcomes new principal

Sue Stevens has taken over as principal at Oakland Elementary as the replacement for Stephanie Stoneberg, who served as principal for six years.

Stevens, who has taught school for 21 years, has been with Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 for 18 of those years. She holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education and master's degree in gifted education, both from Northern Illinois University. She received her administrative certification from Dominican University in River Forest.

An Antioch resident, Stevens had been teaching fourth and fifth grade at Oakland and had served as acting principal in the absence of the regular principal.

Craft show supports ACHS activities

The Peddler's Alley Craft Fair Committee of Antioch Community High School has begun making preparations for its 12th annual event.

Every year more than 50 local crafters participate. Those interested in being among that group for this year should call 847-395-1421, ext. 9440.

Show date is Oct. 9 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., perfect for those interested in early holiday shopping. In addition to crafts, food is served and a bake sale and raffle are held in conjunction. Proceeds support various student activities.

District 117 announces upcoming meetings

Community High School District 117 has determined the board of education meeting dates for the 2004-05 school year.

Upcoming regular meetings will be held on the first and third Thursday of the month at 7 p.m. and will alternate locations between the libraries of Antioch Community High School (ACHS) and Lakes Community High School (LCHS).

Meeting dates for 2004 are as follows: Sept. 2 at ACHS, Sept. 16 at LCHS; Oct. 7 at ACHS, Oct. 21 at LCHS, Nov. 4 at ACHS and Nov. 18 at LCHS. There is only one meeting scheduled for December and it will be held on Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. in the ACHS library.

Faith Evangelical accepts applications

Faith Evangelical Lutheran School is accepting applications for the 2004-05 school year for preschool through eighth-grade students.

The school offers a Christian education. Amenities of the program include high academic standards, low student-teacher ratio, before- and after-school programs, an extended learning program and league sports.

For more information, call 847-395-0754 or visit www.faihtantioch.org. The church and school are located at 1275 Main St.

Early childhood screening

Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 offers early childhood developmental screening.

Parents with concerns should consider this. Developmental screening is a brief series of activities and observations designed to identify children who may have a potential problem that requires further assessment.

Screening is available to children between the ages of 3-5 years old and who have not yet entered kindergarten within District 34. To schedule an appointment, call the special education office at 847-838-8422.

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

DUI

January J. Jones, 27, of 561 Summer Blvd., Lakemoor, was arrested for DUI on Aug. 15 at 2:48 a.m. on Route 59 at Huron.

She was stopped for turning without signaling, weaving within her lane of traffic and crossing the centerline. When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on her breath.

Jones failed all field sobriety tests requested of her and was arrested. She refused chemical testing.

Jones was issued citations for DUI, failure to signal, two counts for improper lane usage, operating an uninsured vehicle and not having her driver's license with her. She was released on cash bond pending court.

Brian S. Battaglia, 30, of 3635 N. Lotus Ave., Spring Grove, was arrested for DUI on Aug. 15 at 1:25 a.m. on Route 59 at Heron.

Police saw him make a lane change without signaling, "weave severely," and cross the centerline several times. Additionally, he had an obstructed windshield.

When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage. Battaglia failed all field sobriety tests requested of him. He was arrested and issued citations for failure to signal, an obstructed windshield, improper lane usage and DUI.

Battaglia refused chemical testing and was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Ricardo Rendon, Jr., 28, of 162 Sunset Court, Twin Lakes, Wis., was arrested for DUI on Aug. 14 at 2:42 a.m. at 890 Main St.

Police saw him hit a parked car in a lot and start to drive off. When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath.

Rendon told police he had been drinking. He only completed two field sobriety tests when he reportedly told police he would fail them. A portable breath test came back with a .148 blood alcohol reading.

He was arrested and agreed to Breathalyzer test that resulted in a .168 blood alcohol concentration reading. Rendon was issued citations for DUI and DUI over .08.

He was released on personal recognizance pending his Sept. 14 court date.

Deanna K. Dunow, 35, of 517 Oakhill, Fox Lake, was arrested for DUI on Aug. 13 at 12:30 p.m. on Route 173 at McMillen.

An officer was dispatched to the area because of a traffic accident.

Dunow told the officer she failed to see the vehicle in front of her and rear-ended it. Additionally, she told police that her driver's license was either suspended or revoked and that she had had two beers at lunch.

A check of her identifiers through LEADS came back with information that her Illinois driver's license had been surrendered to the state of Wisconsin.

The officer went with Dunow in the ambulance to St. Therese emergency room. The strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on her breath.

Dunow was arrested for DUI. She refused chemical testing and was issued an additional citation for failure to reduce speed and causing an accident. She was released on personal recognizance pending her Sept. 3 court date.

Jeffrey A. Hubert, 41, of 40225 N. Regina Road, Antioch, was arrested for DUI on Aug. 11 at 11:57 p.m. on Route 173 at Route 83.

Police reportedly saw him turn into the oncoming lane of traffic and locked him traveling 30 mph in a 20-mph zone. When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Hubert's breath.

He failed all field sobriety tests requested of him and was arrested and issued a citation for DUI. Hubert refused chemical testing and was issued additional citations for an improper turn and speeding.

Hubert posted his driver's license and $100 bond pending his Sept. 14 court date.

Library promotes 'flash your card'

As a special promotion to coincide with National Library Card Sign Up Month in September, the Antioch Public Library District is encouraging residents to flash their library cards around town. It enlisted the help of local businesses by teaming up with them to provide special discounts and freebies to cardholders.

"Flash your card at the local businesses and receive your free item or discount," said Mary Ann Bruno, public relations coordinator. "Flash your card at the library on Sept. 18 to receive a special gift."

Bruno said lists of participating businesses, and what those businesses are offering, are available at the library or on its web site www.antiochdistrictlibrary.org.

"More businesses keep joining every day, so only a partial list is available now," she said. Currently, the following businesses have agreed to participate: Katie's Country Cottage, 1-Hour Cleaners, Big Al's Doghouse II, Golden Panda, Big Apple Bagel, Floral Acres, Ladies Workout Express, McDonald's, Quiznos, U Jeans American Bar and Grill, Suzanne's Framing, Innovative Ideas, Fantastic Sam's, Johnson Jeweler and Escape Nail Spa.

Bruno said, "I've been getting one or two more businesses everyday, and expect this list will be a lot longer in a couple of weeks when September arrives."

"Don't have a card, lost yours, just want a new one, any reason is a good reason to come in and sign up for a library card in September," Bruno said. She added that replacement cards for those that have been lost are free throughout September.

For more information, call Bruno at 847-395-0874.

Sequoits looking for back-to-back playoff berths

By ROB BACKUS
rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

After making three straight playoff appearances from 1998-2000, Antioch took a two-year hiatus before battling back to qualify for the post-season with a 5-4 record in 2003.

And while coach Del Pechauer knows this team is better than last year's squad, he also knows that the schedule is much tougher this time around.

"We'll be competitive, but we have a very tough schedule," Pechauer said. "Seven of the nine teams we face made the playoffs last year. But we're looking forward to it."

The main goal, as always, is to qualify for the playoffs.

"We always want to make it to the playoffs," Pechauer said. "We're better than we were last year, but the competition is tougher."

Leading the way will be a pair of dynamic running backs in Nick Nathan and Nate Hughes.

Last season, Nathan gained 957 yards on 154 carries and put the ball in the end zone eight times. Hughes gained over 750 yards, giving the Sequoits over 1,700 yards returning in the backfield.

"They both worked hard in the off-season," Pechauer said. "They both added speed and muscle. I'm impressed with their work ethic."

Mark Neuman will also see some action for Antioch in the backfield.

Looking to lead the way for the outstanding backs are three returning offensive linemen, Greg Lyons, Sam Simpson and Nick Godin.

Ben Rosewicz will take the snaps at quarterback. He has the size (6-feet, 4-inches, 220 pounds) and the arm to flourish for Antioch.

"He has good size and a good arm," Pechauer said. "He's just working on his throws. He needs to learn to put the ball in the right spot."

His tandem of backs fit exactly into what Pechauer wants to do on offense.

"Our goal offensively is to hang on to the ball," Pechauer said. "We play a lot of good offensive teams in our conference, so we need to keep the ball away from them."

Hughes and Nathan will also be key in the defensive backfield, one of the strengths of Antioch's defense.

"Our secondary and our linebackers are okay," Pechauer said. "But we're small on the defensive line. Hopefully we can use our quickness to our advantage."

One thing that worries Pechauer is injuries, which have struck his team in camp.

"The key for this team is to stay healthy," Pechauer said. "The injuries have hit us right now, and it's a little annoying. But we should be okay in time for the season."

Antioch senior Nate Hughes breaks off a big run in a game last year against Stevenson. The Sequoits will rely on Hughes to carry the load in the backfield this season.—File photo by Steve Young

Leader of the pack

Brandwein provides leadership training to NSC students

By STEVE PETERSON
speterson@lakelandmedia.com

Michael Brandwein, featured speaker at the North Suburban Conference Student-Athlete Leadership conference, spoke of the need to not only recognize people as leaders, but to take that admiration to the next step.

About 700 representatives from all NSC schools in the Lake and Prairie Divisions attended the fifth annual conference at Stevenson High School. Brandwein has been giving presentations on leadership to corporations and government agencies for the last 15 years.

He told the audience that leadership is not a "gift" or there are no "natural born leaders", but it is a skill that is learned. "Leaders do stuff that makes them effective," he told the Sunday morning audience. "We have a tendency to get into the 'sigh mode' when it comes to leadership, saying, 'I wish I was as good as him or her. To be a listener, you have to be more observant, you are not a natural born anything.'"

"He is an outstanding communicator, who can support you with success," said SHS

Athletic Director John Martin of Brandwein.

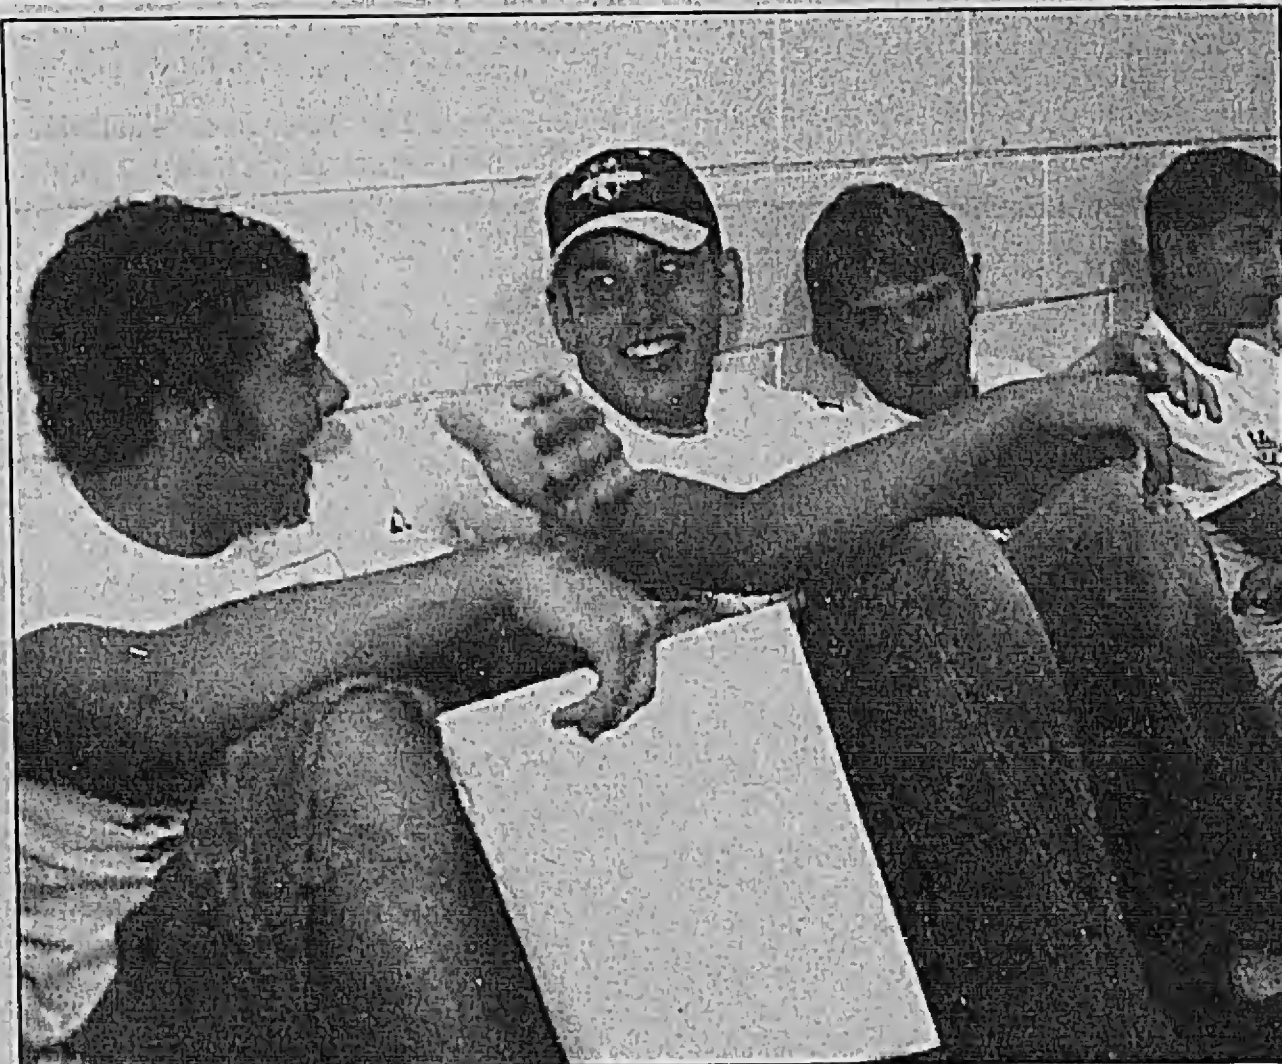

Students volunteered qualities of leadership such as leading by example, humor, motivational, positive work ethic and ambitious. "As I quote Sir Laurence Oliver, it is not enough to know they're good, we must know why," Brandwein said.

After one sees a leadership skill in action, one should work backward to find out how that worked, Brandwein, a Lincolnshire resident, said.

"You should make a list of the kind of things you wish people would say more of you and work to that. That can be for athletes, as they say what kind of words they would like their teammates to use," he said. "People who are 30-40 years of age probably have never done that."

"It is a good conference, to try and develop leadership skills in all sports," said Libertyville senior Rob Emerson.

Brandwein, a former attorney, praised the conference, noting many other students have inquired to join the one-day session. Students broke out into small group sessions led by students and facilitators.

Antioch hoping to go out with a bang

By ROB BACKUS
rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

With a nice balance of returning players and strong incoming talent, Antioch coach Bob Schenk is hoping it all adds up to a record-setting season in the last year for Antioch as a combined school.

"We're looking forward to some nice things in the last year of Antioch High School as we know it," Schenk said. "We're not sure what the school record is for wins, but we're going to set it."

Schenk also hopes his team can win its first regional title since 1991. The Lady Sequoits lost in the regional final to eventual sectional champ Lake Zurich. Antioch finished with a 21-15 overall record in 2003.

Unlike last year, however, Antioch won't be able to play the role of underdog. The Sequoits won the Libertyville summer league with a 34-2 overall record.

"We can't sneak up on anyone this year," Schenk said. "Teams will be trying their hardest against us this season."

Fortunately, Antioch has the talent to compete this season, led by senior outside hitter Kate Hofeldt.

"She's one of the dominant hitters in Lake County," Schenk said.

Tasked with getting the ball to Hofeldt are setters Maggie Lonergan and Ashley Wisler, both of whom started last year.

"Maggie will open a lot of eyes this year," Schenk said. "And Ashley is another great setter."

The team has another strong outside hitter in Kristi Mihovlovich, but she will miss perhaps the first month of the season with a back injury.

Erin Moncelle will provide some force in the middle, as she has made rapid improvement since last year.

"She's one of the most improved players I've ever seen," Schenk said. "I told the girls that I've seen very few players improve as much as Erin."

Tracy Heitman will attempt to dig the ball in the back, as she has three years of varsity experience. Jeanna Wirth will also see action on the back row for Antioch.

"The key to the season is what happens in the back row," Schenk said. "If we can get the ball to our setters, they can get the ball to our hitters who can put it away. We're a powerful team and we're a good serving team. We just need to work on our defense."

If the defense can come around, Pechauer feels his team can compete for its first-ever NSC title.

"Warren and Libertyville will be strong but we're hoping to be in contention for a conference title," Schenk said. "We'd like to give the school some trophies before it splits up."

LOCAL DIGEST

Pool closes Aug. 22

The official closing date of the Antioch Aqua Center is Sunday, Aug. 22. The pool will be open that day from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Open swim hours are from noon to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

For more information, call the Antioch Parks and Recreation Department at 847-395-2160 or the pool at 847-395-7665.

Parents enroll for day out

Antioch United Methodist Church is taking registration for the fall 2004 session of Parents Day Out.

This non-profit Christian enrichment program offers part-time child and pre-school on a steady or flexible basis, and provides opportunities for the development of social and academic skills.

The program begins Sept. 7. For more information, call Joni Goodman, director at 847-395-1362.

Cosmic Bowling tickets on sale

Tickets are now on sale for the sixth annual mother/son cosmic bowling date night.

The event will be held on Sunday, Sept. 12 at the Antioch Bowling Lanes from 6 to 8 p.m. The evening will feature cosmic bowling, Scotch doubles and crazy bowling. Bumper bowling will be made available upon request.

The fee to attend is $15 per couple for Antioch residents and $25 for non-residents. Moms with more than one son won't have to make a choice which one to bring; $5 per child covers the cost for extras.

Ticket sales open up to non-residents after Aug. 30.

Pizza and pop (one pizza, one pitcher per lane) will be served, rental shoes will be provided and memorable photo will be given to each couple as part of the admission price. Because this is a family event, no smoking or drinking will be allowed.

Register at the parks and recreation department office located at 806 Holbeck Drive. For more information, call 847-395-2160.

Open Arms helps area residents, seeks volunteers

Open Arms Mission Food Pantry is a non-profit community organization providing assistance with food and other daily necessities for residents in need of Antioch and Lake Villa Townships.

Hours of operation are every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The pantry is located behind St. Peter Church in Antioch at 557 Lake Street.

Volunteers are always needed and appreciated. Donations can be sent to P.O. Box 79, Antioch, IL 60002. Drop-off centers are located at the Village Hall buildings in Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

For further information call 847-395-0309. Special Need Item of the Month: School Supplies

Free home winterizing for seniors

Antioch senior citizens can apply to have their homes winterized, free of charge through Sharefest, an organized volunteer effort of four area churches: Antioch Evangelical Free Church, Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church, Christian Life Fellowship and Northridge Church to bring resources together, monetary and otherwise, to benefit communities in northern Lake County.

Work to winterize homes would include installing storm windows, covering windows with plastic, checking smoke detectors, replacing furnace filters as well as cleaning gutters and yards.

Applications are available at the Antioch Senior Center, Antioch Township offices, Open Arms Mission (operating out of St. Peter Church), and the four churches that make up the Sharefest organization.

For more information about Sharefest, call Antioch Evangelical Free Church at 847-395-4117, Chain of Lakes Bible Church at 847-838-0103, Christian Life at 847-395-8572 or Northridge Church at 847-838-0800.

Bingo held at VFW Hall

The Antioch VFW sponsors bingo every Tuesday night at the VFW Hall on North Avenue. Doors open at 4:30 p.m. Bingo begins at 6:45 p.m.

Help for Women with Fibroids

Fibroids are benign tumors that grow in the uterus. They are fairly common in women over age 35 and occur more often in women of African-American descent. While fibroids aren't cancer, they can cause women multiple problems, including heavy menstrual bleeding, severe cramps and pelvic pain. A minimally invasive treatment option, uterine fibroid embolization, is now available for women in Lake County.

Talk to your primary care physician or gynecologist about uterine fibroid embolization

FOLA garners grant money to protect lake

By JULIE MURPHY
jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Having received a $26,863 matching-fund grant through the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) via the Northern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC), and two $5K matching-fund grants through Lake County, Friends of Lake Antioch (FOLA) has been able to see the first phase of its six-phase plan to improve and protect the lake through fruition.

The group is working to protect the lake, and water quality, by controlling growth of nuisance plants such as Eurasian Milfoil and building sediment filtration fences where feed-streams enter the lake. Future projects will include stream bank stabilization and shoreline erosion protection.

President and vice president respectively, Bob Schieck and Len Mattson said homeowners around the lake held off officially forming a group until 2000 when the majority of the shoreline became privately owned. According to Mattson, Lake Antioch is a shallow, manmade lake dug in the late 30s by William Brook for him to situation his house.

Mattson said the only section where there is some question over jurisdiction is the portion bordered by Route 173.

A small portion of the funds used to match grants come from subdivision dues of the neighborhoods that border the lake including Mystic Cove, Henning Court and Landmark Point within the village of Antioch, and Antioch Hills, Sunset Ridge and Sabrina Manor in Antioch Township. The remainder of the matching funds is by way of labor, figured at $25 per hour, of willing homeowners of which there is a pool of about 200 to draw.

Schieck said the group determined the costs were about the same to treat the entire lake as what homeowners were spending on their own, individual sections of shoreline.

"This is total management of the lake," Mattson said. "There are new methods that are more efficient and we're using that to improve our lake. It's so beautiful; we've been told it looks better than it has in 20 years."

Both Schieck and Mattson said all of the agencies, at all levels, have been helpful in overseeing and supporting the group's efforts.

Mattson said, "We've been approaching them professionally, and their support has been overwhelming."

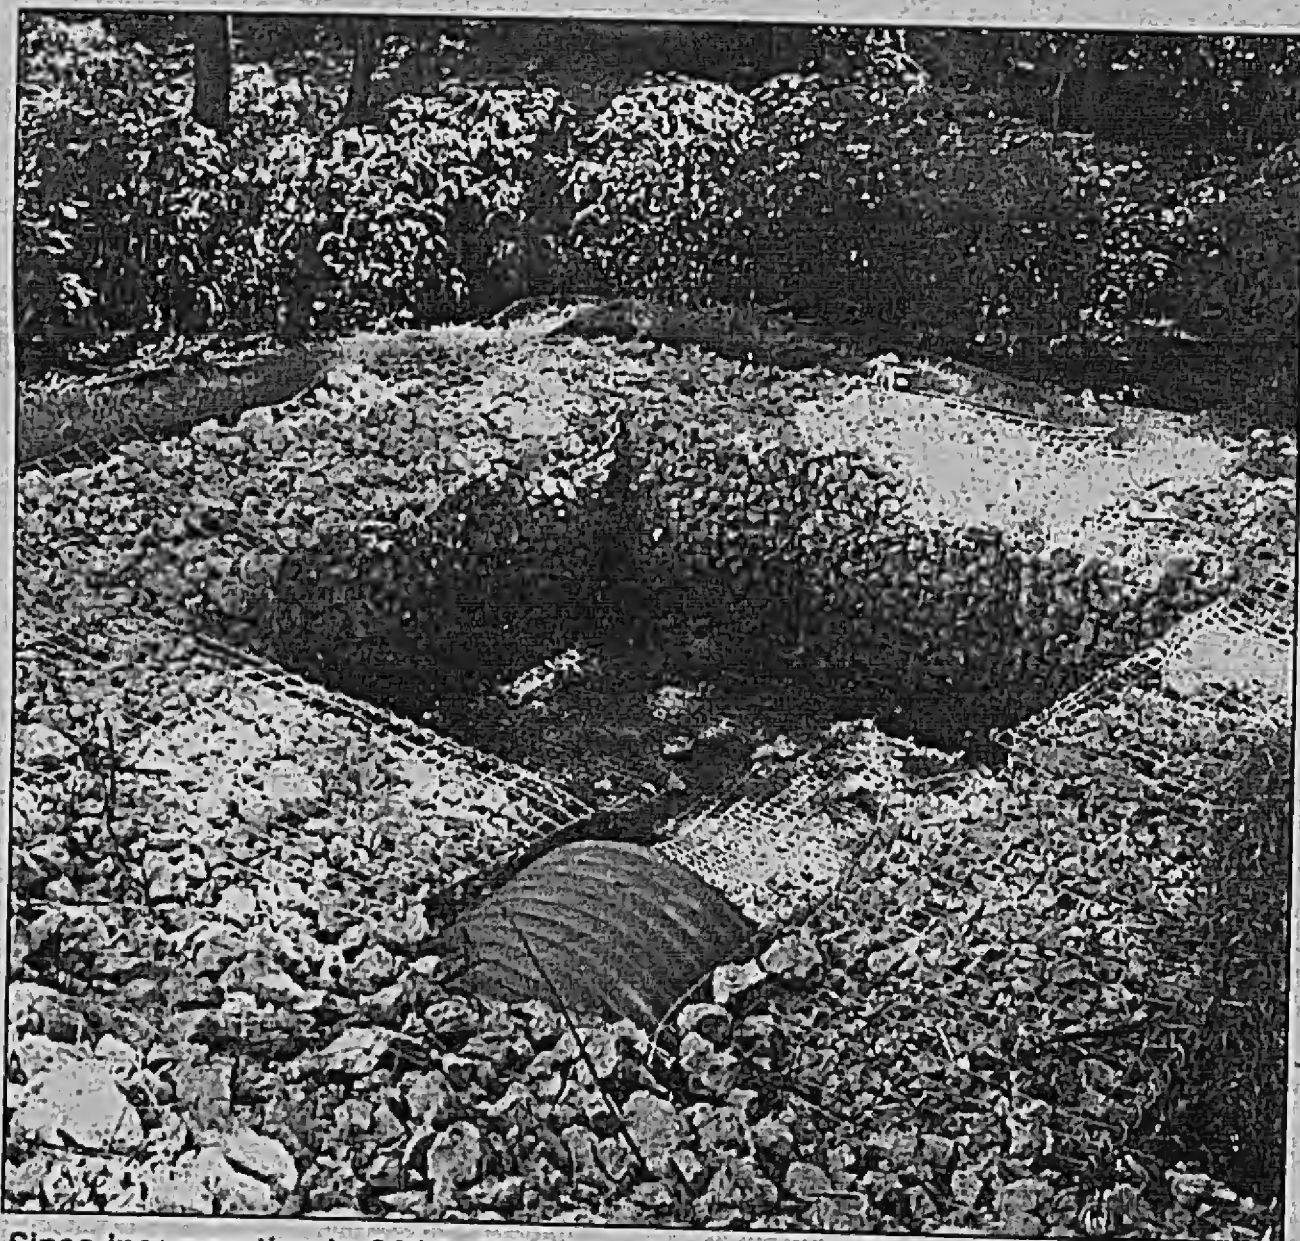

A newsletter is sent out three times a year to residents in the aforementioned neighborhoods. Fund-raising events such as fishing derbies, picnics and golf outings add to both the community spirit and coffers.

Schieck said, "It's amazing what can be accomplished when people commit to working together on a project."

The following local businesses and individuals have donated raffle prizes to support FOLA's fund-raisers: Auto Zone, True Value, Video Empire, Squire Restaurant, BJ's Fashions and Sports, Mr. G's Sandwich Shop, Best Driving School, Antioch Auto Parts, Tangent Watch and Clock, Antioch Pizza, Lion Video, U-Jeans Bar and Grill, Triangle Sports and Marine, Baskin Robbins-Dunkin Donuts, Antioch Dairy Queen, Vi Mattson/Mary Kay Consultant and Rod VanTreeck.

Friends of Lake Antioch (FOLA) was the recipient of a matching-fund grant of $26,863 from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA). The grant was presented to FOLA President Bob Schieck by IEPA Director Renee Cipriano and Northern Illinois Planning Commission Executive Director Ron Thomas.

Since incorporation in 2000, FOLA has developed professionally approved plans and erected a stone filter fence in the feed stream course to reduce soil sediment and natural vegetation debris that previously entered the lake.

Herniated Disc?

Lindenhurst, IL -According to a recently released Herniated Disc pain relief report, most people suffering from a herniated disc have no idea how to eliminate their pain. Some use heat, others ice. Some people try surgery. From sleeping on the floor, to pillows underneath the legs, herniated disc pain relief techniques vary. But thanks to a free report, local herniated disc sufferers finally know exactly what to do.

Lake Forest Hospital women's board awards scholarships

The Lake Forest Hospital Women's Auxiliary announced this year's recipients of its health career scholarships. A $5,000 Marion Warner Hodgkins Scholarship was awarded along with 20 A.B. Dick Jr. scholarships, ranging from $500 to $2,500 each.

The recipients are students interested in pursuing health-care careers or professionals continuing their education in a health-care field. The scholarships are available to any resident of the area served by Lake Forest Hospital. Applicants must have completed at least one year of college and declared a major in a health-related field. They must show outstanding academic achievement as well as exceptional promise in the field of health care to receive an award.

This year's Marion Warner Hodgkins

Scholarship winner is Kimberly Fiester, RN, of Lake Forest, a team leader in the Lake Forest Hospital Critical Care Unit.

The winners of the 20 scholarships named in honor of A.B. Dick Jr., are Robert Bajnrauh, Chicago; Lisa Bayer, Lake Bluff; Wanda Burns, Waukegan; Jordanna de Bruyn, Zion; Emily Estrella, Glenview; Mary Lynn Giombetti, Antioch; Robert J. Hartman Jr., Lake Forest; Emilie Hartnett, Lake Forest; Penny Hiniker, Grayslake; Janet Lee, Lake Forest; Maureen Luetje, Lake Forest; Julie Macfarlane, Lake Forest; Margaret Mueller, Lake Forest; Carrie Nieman, Lake Forest; Christina Noetzel, Berwyn; Kristina Olson, Zion; Gretchen Proesel, Lake Forest; Kristen Rau, Vernon Hills; Lisa Rawls, Wadsworth; and Laura Snyder, Lake Forest.

Health Department opens North Chicago Community Health Center

A new community health center is on the verge of opening in North Chicago. The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center will open the new 10,000-square-foot facility at 2215 14th Street in September. An open house reception will take place on Tuesday, August 24.

For the past 18 years, the Health Department has maintained a health center in two storefronts at 701 10th Street in North Chicago. However, the building became too small to handle the rapidly growing client base. Additionally, the configuration of two storefronts created numerous challenges and limitations.

Four years ago, the Health Department began an effort to raise funds for a new facility. In 2001, it purchased four acres at 14th and Lewis Avenue to construct a new facility in accordance with the Health Department and County Board's strategic plan for facility development. The Health Department raised approximately $2 million for the new facility. This included a federal Health Resources and Services Administration-Bureau of Primary Care grant of $906,000 sponsored by former Congressman John Porter and $75,000 in Illinois First Grant Funds sponsored by Senator Terry Link.

"Increasing access to healthcare is one of our major goals," said Dale Galassie, the Health Department's Executive Director. "This new center will increase access to quality, ongoing primary care for citizens of North Chicago and neighboring communities. This translates into improved health outcomes and a healthier community in which to live and work."

Designed by Daniel Bleck Architects, the building is designed to provide a warm and welcoming environment for patients and to allow for greater efficiencies of operation. It will provide increased access to care, providing for approximately 3,000 additional patient visits. It will also help reduce wait times for an appointment. Currently, the average wait time for a general appointment is two to three weeks.

While the original facility had eight medical exam rooms and two dental operatories, the new facility features 12 medical exam rooms, five dental operatories, six WIC offices, an expanded WIC education room, and a variety of other areas for offices, storage and medical records. It will offer a variety of services to patients, such as General/Family Medicine, Pediatrics, Prenatal, Family Planning, Dental, and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC).

The North Chicago Health Center is one of several facilities that the Health Department is expanding to increase access to healthcare in Lake County. It recently opened a newly remodeled and relocated health center in Round Lake Beach. It is also constructing a new facility next to the Karger Center in Highland Park, which is scheduled to open in 2005. The Health Department also maintains health centers in Waukegan and Zion. The Health Department is one of the largest safety net healthcare providers in Illinois. In 2003, it served approximately 40,000 primary care patients.

Lake County Forest Preserve District executive director resigns

The Lake County Forest Preserve District's Executive Director is leaving his position; the President of the Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners, Bonnie Thomson Carter, announced Wednesday. Steven K. Messerli had served as Executive Director since August 1991.

"The Lake County Forest Preserves made great strides during the past decade and Steve contributed greatly toward that success," said President Carter. "We will begin a search for a new Executive Director to help the Forest Preserve District continue to meet the needs of Lake County residents for open space, nature, outdoor recreation and education in the future."

Messerli: Had served 13 years in post.

An Interim Executive Director will be named soon to serve during the transition and recruitment period, said Carter.

The Lake County Forest Preserve District preserves and manages over 25,000 acres, and is the second largest forest preserve district in Illinois. The District is governed by a 23-member elected Board of Commissioners. Under Illinois law, Lake County Forest Preserve District Commissioners also serve as Lake County Board Members.

City about to acquire 60 acres

Waukegan City Council members authorized the signing of a consent decree and purchase of insurance for the Outboard Marine Corp. (OMC) North Plant real property on Monday, placing ownership of the 60-acre lakefront area within sight. The council gave unanimous approval to a plan that would protect the city from liability related to contamination, and will likely exercise an option to purchase the site in the next six to eight weeks. And the price is definitely right: the city plans to take over the property for just $130, plus $110,000 for insurance.

New radio station gains approval

In a committee meeting, the Round Lake Heights Board of Trustees agreed to play host to new Round Lake radio station WRLR pending the ironing out of a few final details. The station will make a home of the old Village Hall, located next door to the current Village Hall on Pontiac Court. The station will broadcast on FM 98.3 and will cover the Round Lake area, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and a small part of Mundelein. Coverage should stretch to roughly 90,000 people around northwest Lake County.

Condell Auxiliary president gets service award from medical society

Libertyville resident Kerry Luitgaarden, president of The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center, was one of two recipients of the Lake County Medical Society's 2004 Citizen's Service Award.

Luitgaarden was selected for this honor based on her dedicated volunteer work for Condell Medical Center and other volunteer efforts for the American Cancer Society and the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, Lake County.

The award was introduced almost 20 years ago to bring special recognition to the many non-physicians in the community who go well beyond the call of duty in their work or volunteer activities to be helpful to others in need of special assistance, especially for health-related concerns.

Lake County Medical Society member Dr. Raghu Thunga, nominated Luitgaarden for the award.

EDITORIAL

Sounding board of nation: Illinois

With polar opposites running for an open seat in the U.S. Senate, Illinois will be a sounding board for the nation in this critical presidential election year. The narrowing of party strength in Lake County, indeed, the 2004 primary saw more Democrats going to the polls than Republicans, mirrors a nation that pollsters say is evenly divided with a small percentage of independent and undecided voters, 10 percent at most, figuring to decide the outcome.

Both State Sen. Barack Obama, the Democratic nominee, and Alan Keyes, a national figure brought in to carry the Republican banner, promise a vigorous debate on issues. We see this as a benefit both for Illinois and the nation. Keyes is an outspoken conservative and a passionate advocate for basic American principals. No question where he stands. Obama is more elusive. Compiling a certified record of liberalism in the Illinois General Assembly, as a U.S. Senate candidate Obama has expanded talking points to include positions that appeal to moderates. The South Side, Harvard educated lawyer, predictably is courting the center.

With both candidates African American, the question of race will be a side consideration, if at all. GOP leaders effectively neutralized the mainstream media on drawing racial distinctions by selecting Keyes. The noted conservative orator also will "pin down" Obama to tending to business in Illinois rather than cavorting around the nation on behalf of the Kerry-Edwards ticket and fulfilling Democrat yearnings for a new face on the national scene. Some off-beat cable tv commentators, we noted with some amusement, even were referring to "Senator-Elect Obama" in post convention interviews. Not any more. Obama has a fight on his hands.

So more is at stake in the Illinois election this fall than filling a vacant U.S. Senate seat. National impact, to be sure. Whether he wins or loses, Alan Keyes will help reinvigorate a moribund, demoralized Republican state organization. A bonus for local voters will be if Obama and Keyes square off in Lake County. This fall could be the rare occasion when candidates for high office both do some campaigning in Lake County.

Senior tax break practical, sensible

Ring the bell for a display of good sense in government. Lake County Board members voted unanimously to eliminate the requirement that seniors citizens owning property renew their senior homestead exemption every year.

The annual renewal requirement was a royal pain for seniors and created unnecessary paper work for public employees involved in the taxation process. No one seemed to remember why the annual renewal requirement was adopted in the first place. So when a one-time filing system was suggested, everyone jumped on the bandwagon.

County Board Rep. Michael Talbott (R-Lake Zurich), chairman of the Taxation, Election and Records Committee, had the best take on the rationale for going to a one-time filing. "You only become 65 once." Well put, Michael.

The tax break is available to homeowners at least 65 years old. Best and most convenient way to file is with a visit to the local township assessor's office. Filing entitles the senior to a reduction of $2,000 in assessed valuation. The reduction goes to $3,000 next year due to recent action taken by the General Assembly. Who says politicians aren't looking out for the best interests of senior citizens?

The assessed valuation discount is in addition to the general $3,500 homestead exemption which goes to $5,000 next year when another tax break for property owners kicks in. County officials estimate that about 20,000 senior citizens in Lake County are eligible.

None of the county board members brought up the point that eliminating the annual renewal will be a good talking point next year for board members running for reelection. That's a fact. But that's part of acting sensibly, too, isn't it?

VIEWPOINT

PADS volunteers called for 2004-2005 season

Right at the top of the list for devotion and community service are volunteers for Lake County PADS (Public Action to Deliver Shelter and Supportive Services), the individuals and organizations that provide emergency overnight shelter and meals for homeless men, women and families with children.

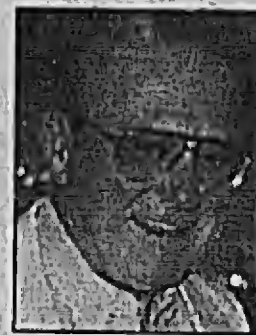

PADS, gearing up for the 2004-2005 cold weather season that begins Oct. 11, has the call out for volunteers.

Shelter sites are located in churches throughout Lake County. One or two are open every night of the week from Oct. 1 through April 30. Volunteers are needed to work various shifts between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. PADS helpers perform such duties as cooking, serving food, checking in persons seeking shelter, making sure overnighters are comfortable, monitoring persons staying for the night and morning clean up.

David Williams, PADS volunteer coordinator, reported that orientations will be held August 28, Sept. 11, Sept. 25, and Oct. 16 at the College of Lake County, Grayslake campus, Room COO2-3 from 9 to 10:30 a.m.; and the main office on the Veteran's Administration center in North Chicago on August 30, Sept. 13, Sept. 27, and Oct. 11 in Building 5, Room 203 from 7 to 8:30 a.m.

Williams can be contacted at 847-689-4357, ext. 114. Teenage volunteers are accepted when accompanied by their parents.

PADS is expanding this year with the operation of a seven-day a week service at the center, 914 8th

St., Waukegan, that will cater to families. Other shelters operating this season include Community Christian Church, Waukegan; Foss Park District, North Chicago; Greater St. James Church, North Chicago; Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church, Grayslake; Wildwood Presbyterian Church; Wesley Free Methodist Church, Waukegan; St. Mary's Church, Fremont Center, Mundelein; St. Joseph's Church, Libertyville; St. Mary of Vernon Church, Indian Creek; United Protestant Church, Grayslake; St. Anastasia Church, Waukegan; St. Mark Lutheran Church, Lindenhurst; United Methodist Church, Libertyville, and Messiah Evangelical Lutheran Church, Wauconda.

Payton preview

A preview of a new tribute to Walter Payton will be in store for persons attending the 20th anniversary and annual meeting of the Lake County Convention & Visitors Bureau Wednesday, August 25, at Lake County Discovery

Museum. The program and lunch will run from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The tribute to the great Chicago Bears running back is entitled, "Sweetness: The Walter Payton Story."

Sell, not fight

Add the unincorporated area of Russell near the Wisconsin state line where a group of homeowners is interested in a buyout program rather than being victims of more Des Plaines River flooding. County Board Rep. Randy Whitmore (R-Wadsworth) is involved in an effort to draw up funding guidelines. The Russell interest follows inquiries into property buyouts in Gurnee. The Lake County Stormwater Management Agency successfully engineered a buyout program several years ago to eliminate chronic flooding in Williams Subdivision. In the long run, officials believe buyouts are less costly than dealing with the costs of flooding. In Russell there are seven homes in the floodway and an estimated 15 homes in the floodplain.

One man's family

New granddaughter Caroline still is too young to object to that "passed around" feeling, but family members and friends can't resist an opportunity taking turns snuggling her. Caroline seems to enjoy all the attention. Her young cousins, John, Nikki and Tommy passed with flying colors their first test as babysitter helpers. They passed her around, of course. Carefully.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKE LAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Caution sign out in Dist. 1

Spiro Georgeson took a different path in politics. As a resident of Cook County, Georgeson was a Republican and a ward leader. When he moved to Lake County six years ago, he switched parties. Now he's running for county board as the Democrat nominee in Dist. 1. The district runs along the Wisconsin state line with Antioch as the center.

Georgeson is facing veteran Lake County Board Rep. Judi Martini in the November election. He admits that the odds are long in solid GOP territory, but he's having fun so far and enjoying the competition. He put up a sign last spring, "What About Spiro?" that has been generating interest. The sign is a teaser. "People are wondering, 'who's Spiro?'" chuckled the retired state employee.

Reader Don Valloni of Antioch wrote Party Lines to advise that there's a serious aspect to the Georgeson campaign. In short, Valloni cautioned, "Pay attention and listen to what he is saying."

The candidate said he worked in the administrations of five different governors. He was on a first name basis with high ranking state officials going back to the administration of the late Gov. Richard Ogilvie. Georgeson's last post was with the Illinois Dept. of Transportation.

Georgeson already knows that there's one vote he won't get. His brother, Bill, who is well known as a staunch Republican.

Challenge shaping up

A battle over zoning for a condominium project is showing promise of shaping the 2005 mayoral election in Round Lake Park. Mary Renee Pirrello, an activist opposing the condo project, says she is "quite certain" that she will challenge Mayor Ila Bauer next year. Meetings of objectors are drawing big crowds. Pirrello promised that there will be a full slate of candidates looking for new leadership.

Simply marvelous

Martin Galanthé, Lake County Public Works director, rates ace high with residents of North Libertyville Estates. Officers of the North Libertyville Estates board of directors headed by President Dan Herchenbach lauded PW workers for around-the-clock service when high waters of the DesPlaines River threatened. They asserted that the public employees are "marvelous."

Keeping up with business

Businessman Daniel Bryant satisfied both Republican supporters and Democratic opponents that he is a resident of Lake County and qualified to run against State Sen. Susan Garrett (R-Lake Forest). After graduating from Stevenson High School, Bryant left the state for educational and business opportunities before returning to the North Shore several years ago. What was confusing was the fact that Bryant, 35, maintained an apartment in Chicago to be close to his work place while he had residence in Lake Bluff. Garrett, 54, a two-term representative who won a newly redistricted seat two years ago, said she is not phased by the newcomer's challenge. Bryant said his socially moderate views and fiscal conservatism fit well with the district that extends into Cook County.

Enjoying the job

By her actions, friends of Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles are predicting that she will be seeking her fifth consecutive term in the consolidated election next spring. Sindles has been energized by the strides Mundelein is making in economic development and broadening the tax base with commercial growth. Mundelein's industrial and commercial future is viewed as the Ivanhoe area once part of Fremont Township, but now part of the incorporated village. A big box store project at Rtes. 83 and 60 is transforming the cross-roads community.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Value of Crane to Lake County cited

It was pleased to read that Metra will be moving forward with $2 billion in improvements. As a lifelong resident of Lake County, I have seen the traffic gridlock increase to an unbearable level.

We are fortunate to have Congressman Phil Crane, the senior house member, fighting along with Speaker of the House, Dennis Hastert, to secure a large amount of money to solve an expensive problem for Lake County and the collar counties.

To put things in perspective, $2 billion is about $3,100 for every man, woman, and child in Lake County. For an investment of this size, our representatives realize that traffic congestion is a serious problem for us. They have worked long and hard to get that level of funding.

Congressman Crane's political opponent, Melissa Bean, has dismissed this accomplishment as "too little, too late." I don't know in whose world $2 billion can be too little repair.

Melissa Bean's first vote would be to unseat Illinois' greatest congressional asset, House Speaker Dennis Hastert, and replace him with San Francisco liberal Nancy Pelosi. If Melissa Bean and Nancy Pelosi are successful, I do not think Lake County and the collar counties' traffic congestion would get any funding and the Washington tax dollars would get sucked into big government social programs. That would mean "too little" would be spent on our traffic problem.

We must re-elect our representatives in Congress like Phil Crane and Dennis Hastert who understand our concern and problems.

Reward Bush

During an intense firefight in Iraq, a stray bullet fired in self defense finds an innocent victim. A unit of soldiers, under siege from Saddam loyalists, call in an air strike, and the missile from the warplane kills more than just the intended target. The death of any non-combatants in a military conflict like the Iraq war is a tragedy. However, such deaths have occurred in every war fought by the United States, except on a larger scale than has occurred in Iraq.

Extreme left wing radicals and other supporters of John Kerry have exploited these tragedies in their misguided attempt to oppose the liberation of Iraq. Liberal voices are loud in pointing to these tragedies that have occurred as the result of military operations in Iraq.

However, the left is silent when another mass grave site is discovered in Iraq. Nowhere in liberal pronouncements of supposed American human rights abuses is there even an expression of slight disappointment in Saddam Hussein over reports that almost one million Iraqis were intentionally murdered by the Hussein regime.

Liberal outrage over accidents and missteps made by U.S. military forces, while remaining silent about the torture, maiming, gassing, and murder of innocent Iraqis, shows a complete lack of perspective on the importance of the U.S. mission to remove a brutal dictatorship with a horrible human rights record and with a history of aggression toward other countries, and to replace it with the Arab world's first democratic government. By every poll taken so far, the Iraqi people want democracy, in addition to the death penalty for the dictator who oppressed them.

Opponents of the war deafen us with their silence over the repeated new discoveries of human rights violations of the old Saddam Hussein regime. Some even have the audacity to suggest that Saddam Hussein provided the Iraqi people with some type of Baathist utopia, until the evil George Bush came along to screw it up. The killing fields of Saddam Hussein provide a dose of reality in contrast to this liberal propaganda.

Yet war opponents continue to scream about accidental deaths. Are the tens of thousands of deaths by accident far more horrible than the nearly one million people who were brutally murdered "intentionally" by Saddam Hussein?

Now is not the time for the American people to lose their resolve. Our nation did right by the Iraqi people by eliminating a tyrant, and replacing it with a budding democracy with a far better appreciation of human rights. President Bush showed courage and foresight in his action to liberate Iraq, and the American people should reward him with another term in office.

Old plan ignored

The Village of Grayslake is accepting feedback on its newly unveiled comprehensive plan. How much did the plan cost? How is it enforced? When will it expire?

In 1995, my wife and I bought a 1.5 acre lot near the perimeter of Grayslake. While considering the purchase and the vast amounts of farm land surrounding our lot, we consulted Grayslake's then-current 1994 Comprehensive Plan. This plan clearly calls for large (1 plus acre) lots on the entire perimeter of the community. Furthermore, the farm land near our area was already zoned for 1.5 acre lots. These were key factors in our decision to build in Grayslake and to funnel our taxes into this community.

In 2003, Mayor Tim Perry's board chose to ignore the commitments made by the older comprehensive plan when an opportunity presented itself to permit Kathcon to build .5 acre lot homes immediately to the north of us creating a 3:1 density of homes.

Since our current board chose to violate the integrity of the old comprehensive plan, how does their newer version have any better odds of being implemented over time? Why do we spend our tax dollars planning and replanning? If a comprehensive plan doesn't represent a commitment to those choosing to invest in Grayslake, then the village should consider a less definitive title for their document and some sort of tax refund for those who were misled.

Fairness at stake

Without commenting on county board candidate Larry Leafblad skills as an interviewer, Ms. Horowitz (News Sun Letter To The Editor, July 22, 'Amateurish at best') does raise valid issues concerning the use of a governmentally run cable operation to allow one candidate "face" time.

The FCC rule (No. 315) on the matter of Equal Time is quite clear. Appearances of candidates on radio, TV or cable are required to be given equal time and their appearances logged in a public file. This applies to both private and public operations.

When Lake County Board member Bob Powers (District 16) ran for office he was also a co-host with me on the RLUPClose cable interview show. He decided to abide by the Equal Time rule by not hosting our program while he ran for that office. Since he was the host of a news show a Equal Time rule exemption could have allowed him to stay on, but to do so, even why allowed, would have been a method to circumvent the intent of the rule. However in the spirit of the law, he did the right thing, and so now should Leafblad and the County.

Whether one supports or doesn't support Leafblad or his opponent is not the issue. It's simply one of fairness and what is the right thing to do.

Vote for freedom

How about a different perspective on how to achieve open space economically? We all know that infrastructure is suffering, traffic, schools, libraries, water, waste treatment, on and on. We seem to have a shortage of banquet facilities. Lake County should end any and every tax they collect against any business in competition with the county, cities, villages and forest preserve. Additionally any business by its activities provides open space should be excluded from taxation. Farms, golf courses, polo fields, soccer associations, driving ranges and businesses with, set aside, such as Abbott Laboratories. This is a winner for all, we get open space.

Anyone who has the down payment to build something that would qualify will rush here as fast as possible. Lower taxes would lower business expenses allowing them to charge lower fees to participate. There would be more jobs. Population growth would be halted or at least slowed to a more reasonable rate. There would be less infighting among the county board members. There would be less need for more tax increases so the county could build more facilities competing with private enterprise. The county and all local municipalities could relax their oppressive zoning ordinances. Smaller government and less oppression would be the result of eliminating special interest protection by taxation. In addition, every foot of land purchased by any government entity is taken off the tax rolls; this causes us to pay twice, so let us avoid the high first cost.

This November we have very serious questions to answer. In national politics there seldom is movement pertaining to international and national policies. The questions will be can the Constitution survive? Will there still be a few individual rights? Local politics is far more important to all of us. We lose more freedom to local ordinances and state statute than from the Feds. When you vote, vote for those offering more freedom not more government intrusion in your life. If 80 percent of us show up and vote we will scare our elected officials into listening to us.

Women's golf outing

The NISRA Foundation is seeking players for its fourth annual Women's Golf Outing on Sept. 21, at the Randall Oaks Golf Course in West Dundee. Players of all ability levels are welcome to participate in this fun, non-competitive event which benefits local children and adults with disabilities in NISRA programs. The event is an all-women's golf scramble including 9 holes of golf with cart, special contests and prizes based upon the theme, a delicious lunch, prizes and awards. Players will have an opportunity to bid on a male caddy who will provide treats and assistance on the golf course for the foursome. To register ($60 per player) or learn about the details, call Holly at 815-459-0737, ext. 231.

Team Lake County

Don't miss the next Team Lake County meeting on Sept. 23, at the Arboretum Club in Buffalo Grove, from 3-5 p.m., followed by an hour of networking. Attendees will learn about the array of financial resources available to businesses in Lake County, many of them through Lake County Partners. To register, call Rita at 847-247-0137.

Indian Creek Watershed plan

The Lake County Stormwater Management Commission Board began the public review and comment period for the draft Indian Creek Watershed Plan. The Indian Creek Watershed Plan was developed by the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission and Applied Ecological Services, Inc. in partnership with the Indian Creek Watershed Project, Ltd. and other watershed stakeholders. Over 18 public meetings were held to solicit input from the Indian Creek watershed stakeholder committee.

Indian Creek is a tributary to the Des Plaines River watershed in south central Lake County. The 38 square mile watershed includes portions of 10 municipalities and parts of Elia, Fremont, Libertyville and Vernon townships. There are 650 acres of lakes in the watershed. More than half (62 percent) of the watershed is developed. The Executive Summary is available on SMC's Web site at www.co.lake.il.us/smc/planning/Indian-creek/ICDrftPlan.asp.

A copy of the draft plan will be available to view at the following libraries in the watershed: Fremont Public Library, Mundelein; Elia Public Library, Lake Zurich; Vernon Public Library, Lincolnshire and Cook Library, Libertyville.

The draft plan will also be available at the following village halls: Indian Creek, Libertyville, Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Lake Zurich, Lincolnshire, Hawthorn Woods, Kildeer, Long Grove and Buffalo Grove.

For more information, call Sean Wiedel at 847-918-7693 or e-mail swiedel@co.lake.il.us.

Child car seat inspection

Condell Day Center will offer a free child car seat safety inspection on Sept. 23, from 3-6 p.m., at Condell Day Center, 700 Garfield Ave. in Libertyville. Inspections are performed by certified technicians. There is no fee for this service and no appointment is necessary. Those unable to attend can call the Condell Day Center to schedule an appointment. Complimentary inspections are available Monday through Friday. Interested parties should call 847-990-5824.

Special Olympics Banquet

The Special Recreation Association of Central Lake County (SRACLC) will be hosting its third annual Special Olympics Banquet on Aug. 25 at the Ivanhoe Country Club in Mundelein. SRACLC offers 10 different Special Olympics sports throughout the year, including volleyball, basketball, bowling, power lifting, soccer, gymnastics, bocce, track and field, golf and softball. Cheerleading is also recognized at the banquet. All athletes will be recognized at the event, followed by several special awards including Athlete of the Year and a Life Time Achievement Award. The evening includes dinner, awards and a dance.

How to combat the beginning of school year woes for parents

Dear Dr. Singer,

School is fast approaching and we have had an ongoing problem with our child that we dread facing again. We feel that our child simply doesn't enjoy school or the process of learning. It is like pulling teeth to get that child to work on anything and it is usually within the first few weeks that grades fall down the tubes. Can you give us any insight here on how to get this to change? S.T.

Dear S.T.,

I have a few suggestions, first of which would be to let me test the child. It's good to have a roadmap of the obstacles if they actually exist and if they don't, that knowledge is good to have as well! At least then, you can rule out any cognitive or processing issue and proceed full force without guilt or get the child the help that will make a difference. As you may or may not know, I run a program that deals with this very thing and I've made some interesting observations. First let me say that I do believe that there are real learning obstacles that get in the way for some kids. People who have read my columns before know that through the popular press, I believe that many kids are getting too savvy at diagnosing their own problems for the purpose of getting out of the responsibility they feel. I think this is a very important thing to get past. I think that if you have hard data in the form of testing, you either rule out or confirm and treat, but my feeling is, we need to stop playing the middle ground between these two options.

Another thing I've noticed in the scope of my processing/attention improvement pro-

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

gram is what I will call a re-definition of hard work. After they have received a bad grade, I have asked a lot of kids how long they actually looked at the material prior to taking the test. The answers have stunned and amazed me. I have heard kids tell me that they have sat down for 15 minutes and seriously expected an A and were surprised when they received an F. When I have suggested taking a small amount of extra time each night on each subject plus 2 hours the night before an exam, I am looked at as though I come from another planet. I have seen this look from parents as well. I don't know what changed, when, but I do know that school work is just that—work. It's not meant to be fun. It's not meant to be entertaining, although to some it is and that's great. To the great majority of people, it is monotonous and seen as a rite of passage or a stepping stone to future privileges. It scares me that I am seeing such a large amount of people who prefer to make excuses for why a child can't, instead of helping that child to get to 'I can.' We need to train the child to be able to work through and stay with monotonous rather than always looking for entertaining! That way, he or she is able to handle any situation that comes down the pike, rather than just the fun ones.

We all have our own obstacles. Some of us can't see well. Some of us can't hear well.

Some of us are slower learners than others, but that isn't a reason to give up the game. It's a reason to become challenged and to move beyond what we think we can. I have seen this thought instilled in kids and with the ones I've met, they always follow suit.

I remember one of the most powerful sights I ever saw was when I was working on my undergraduate degree at U of I in Champaign. I was working and had too many classes and felt overloaded and was always complaining about that. I figured I'd be lucky to get C's. One day, on my way into work, I saw a young man with an arm full of books walking down the street. So, you might ask, what is the big deal about that? Many people walk down the street on a College campus with books in their arms. This man also had a walking stick and was completely blind, yet he was at a University that demanded tremendous academic performance, both past and future. All of a sudden, my problems didn't seem so insurmountable.

Now, many kids have obstacles of their own. Maybe some have been diagnosed with ADD and some have LD and some have a behavior disorder, but it doesn't make them incompetent human beings. These problems simply need to be addressed, fixed and life gotten on with. The problem is that people spend too much time accepting the disorder as a part of the child's life rather than fixing it and moving on.

Be careful with your child's distaste for school. Investigate it thoroughly first, but don't fall into the failure trap. You are allowed to expect effort from your child. Even if your child has been diagnosed with something, you are allowed to teach your child the way to find success through hard work and putting off immediate gratification. Academics are behavior-related like many other behaviors. Asking your child to like school may be stretching it, but requiring your child to meet certain standards isn't. As I said above, have the child tested first to be sure of what that roadmap looks like that we discussed earlier and then once you find out or rule out problems, either way, get it treated or find out there is nothing to treat and help your child move on.

Getting kids to like learning can be done through challenge and success. You can find out what topics interest your child and help the child find out about those topics. Set up a contrived situation in which you help your child read about a topic and ask the child about it, complimenting correct answers. Outline for the child that this is really no different than school. The only difference is that in school the child doesn't necessarily like all the topics, but can still do well if enough time is spent or the correct help is gotten. During school, maybe make school a contest for him or her. After the child has been tested and treated if necessary, make sure that privileges, rewards and freedom are tied into the child's effort. Effort, meaning time put in, not grades. Grades will come naturally with time put in. Share with your child your definition of the minimum amount of time that is acceptable to you. Of course, be reasonable. Twelve hours is not reasonable.

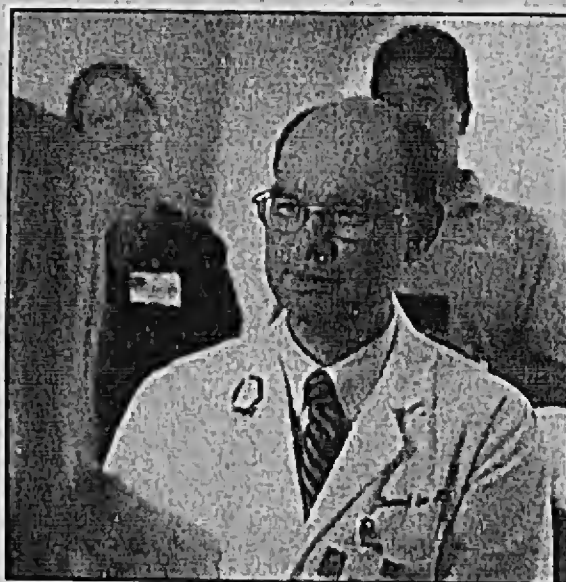

I think we really need to help our kids get back to the understanding that success is not a matter of luck or being someone else who doesn't have our problems. It's a matter of striving in the face of obstacles. It's a matter of giving it all you've got and more to get the job done because you are proud of that. I've worked with enough kids in my program to know that many of them don't really have a concept of what hard work or finishing something completely is. Once they're taught and expectations are set, they prove to be more than capable and really feel pride when doing it.

CLC vying for 5th straight Skyway title

By ROB BACKUS
rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

After losing seven starters from last year's team that went 13-6-1 on its way to winning its fourth straight Skyway Conference title and finishing 2nd in the state for the second straight year, you would think that CLC would be in a rebuilding mode.

Instead, the Lady Lancers have simply reloaded. With just four returning starters, CLC remains poised once again to set the pace in the Skyway.

"This group doesn't have as high of expectations as last year's team," CLC coach Dave Beck said. "But I think they can be every bit as successful. They just don't have any pressure on them."

Although CLC graduated Nikki Stefani, one of the leading scorers in school history, and Katie Mical, one of the best goalkeepers the team has ever had, Beck remains confident in both his offense and his defense.

That's because the team does return All-American Kristy DeClark, who had 18 goals and four assists last season. Those 18 goals were one shy of the school record of 19, held by Nikki Sowizdrzal and Dory Thompson.

"I'm going to try hard to break that record," said DeClark, a Stevenson graduate. "Plus we all want to win a 5th straight conference title. We have some good recruits. A lot of solid players are coming in."

One of those players, Antioch grad Katie Malcolm, is looking forward to the chance of helping her team to another conference title.

"I'm just going to come out and do my part for the team, and that's all you can do," said Malcolm, who will also play hoops at CLC this winter. "I want to take part in a championship."

Malcolm will be integral on the team's defense, along with freshmen Courtney Schaefer and Sarah Tandet. The key for the defense, according to Beck, is simply learning how to play together.

"They're all talented individually, but they've never played together before," Beck said. "They have to communicate with each other and learn to play together."

The last line of defense for a team is always its keeper, and Beck feels he has a good one in Kara McIlhenny.

Those four players will play a huge role in the success of the team, according to Beck.

"If you have a good defense, you always have a chance to win every game," Beck said.

With solid scoring upfront in DeClark, the key on offense will be getting her the ball and a number of players are tasked with that.

Michelle Mrocek and Jennifer Jagla return to lead the midfielders, and freshman Sara Carlson will also be key in distributing the ball.

"Our defense and offense will be strong," Beck said. "But we need to be able to transition from defense to offense and from offense to defense. The midfielders will have to work the hardest."

But Beck feels his team is perfectly capable of working hard enough to compete for another Skyway title.

"Work ethic will determine our team's fate," Beck said. "But I've seen it so far. This is an extremely coachable team. I think they can do it and I think we can win our 5th straight title."

Strong bones help kick start new school year

As calcium has become the mineral of the millennium, linked to everything from osteoporosis prevention to weight loss, more and more calcium-fortified foods have hit the market. These foods can be costly and, according to registered dietitian Ellie Krieger, a nutrition and lifestyle consultant to clients ranging from homemakers to CEOs and a regular guest on NBC's "Today Show," the best, most cost-effective source of calcium is as close as your refrigerator.

Milk offers more

Recent research and a price analysis support milk as one of the least expensive calcium sources, especially when compared to other non-dairy, calcium-fortified foods.

"Penny per penny, one gallon of lowfat or fat-free milk provides about twice as much calcium as fortified soy beverages, apple juice, breakfast bars and fortified bread, and almost double the amount of calcium in one gallon of fortified orange juice and in wheat cereal and waffles," says Krieger. "Most sports drinks and sodas offer none of the bone-building nutrients we need to help maintain strong, healthy bones."

Also, a recent study published in the November 2001 issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association revealed milk as the most economical source of calcium for children when compared to other school lunch foods.

Researchers at Kansas State University examined the nutrient content of school lunch components, including milk, and compared the costs of other food items. The results revealed that milk contributed the most calcium and protein per 100 calories and per penny — making milk a nutrient packed yet cost effective component for school lunches.

Experts recommend milk

Today, nine out of 10 women and seven out of 10 men fail to meet their daily calcium requirements, which can lead to osteoporosis. Milk can help adults meet their daily calcium requirement of 1,000 mg.

Krieger advises adults to get their much-needed nutrients from just three servings of milk or milk group foods a day, rather than from more expensive fortified foods or supplements.

"Many Americans need to be a little cost-conscious, especially in today's economy. As a natural source of calcium, milk is a great value," says Krieger. "In addition to calcium, milk offers a complete nutrient package by providing eight other essential nutrients, including vitamin D, which maximizes the absorption and effectiveness of calcium."

Don't let lice become uninvited guests

Along with stacks of textbooks, homework assignments, classmates' addresses and stories your child will bring home from school this year, there's also a good possibility he or she may bring home more than you bargained for — lice. Yes, those creepy, crawly pests seem to spring up anew with each passing year of your child's education, but there are ways you can recognize the signs of infestation early to manage future outbreaks.

Pediculus humanus capitis, more commonly known as head lice, are parasitic insects found on the heads of people. Having head lice is very common; as many as six to 12 million people worldwide get it each year, according to the Division of Parasitic Diseases, National Center for Infectious Diseases and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Forms of head lice

You may discover head lice in one of three forms: the nit, the nymph or the adult.

- Nit: Nits are head lice eggs. They are hard to see and are often confused for dandruff or hair spray droplets. Nits are oval in shape and will be firmly attached to the strands of hair. Their color ranges from yellow to white. Nits take about one week to hatch.

- Nymph: The nit hatches into a baby louse called a nymph. It looks like an adult head louse, but is much smaller. To live, the nymph must feed on blood.

- Adult: The adult louse is about the size of a sesame seed, has 6 legs, and is tan to grayish-white. Adult lice can live up to 30 days on a person's head. They too must feed on blood, and if a louse falls off a person, it dies within two days.

Signs of infestation

Besides visual signs of infestation, including finding nits, nymphs or adults on the scalp behind the ears and near the neckline, there are other symptoms to indicate that your child may have lice:

- Tickling feeling of something moving in the hair.
- Itching, caused by an allergic reaction to the bites.
- Irritability.
- Sores on the head caused by scratching. The sores sometimes become infected.

Keep children lice-free

Although you can't watch over your child every moment he or she is at school or play, you can encourage youngsters to take certain precautions to help prevent lice infestation, including:

- Avoiding contact with a person who has lice, or reporting that a student has lice promptly.
- Cleaning and/or disposing of infested clothing, like hats, scarves, coats, sports uniforms or hair ribbons.
- Never sharing combs or brushes.
- And you can help by looking closely through your child's hair and at the scalp for any signs of lice. Should you find any:
  - Consult a healthcare provider about the right type of treatment for your family.
  - Use an over-the-counter spray to eliminate lice that may be in carpeting or upholstery.
  - Use an over-the-counter shampoo designed to kill lice and their eggs.
  - Keep your child home from school and recreational activities until the infestation is under control.
  - Report your findings to the school nurse so that he or she can notify other parents.

Lice just love to follow children home from school. Make sure you're informed about these parasites to help manage infestation.

Healthy eyes: your child's most important school supply

Among all the crayons, paper, scissors and glue you purchase for your child's first day of classes, his or her most important school supply is a healthy pair of eyes. Studies indicate vision is the key element (almost 80 percent) of the learning process during a child's first 12 years.

To ensure a lifetime of healthy eyes and vision and success in school, the American Optometric Association (AOA) encourages comprehensive eye exams to be performed at age six months and three years, prior to entering school, and every two years after that.

An examination assesses whether the eyes see clearly. But it also measures the eyes' ability to work together, focus properly, and move together in activities like reading across a page of text or following a ball.

When children have undetected vision problems, school can become a struggle. Signs that your child may be experiencing vision difficulties in the classroom include: trouble finishing written assignments, frequently losing his or her place or skipping words when reading, having a short attention span when doing close work, making errors when copying from a classroom board, and having greater potential than grades may indicate (underperforming).

A visit to the optometrist will help make your child's time in the classroom more productive and rewarding by ensuring that your child's eyes are healthy and ready for learning.

Kidsuccess open house celebrates new classrooms

Eileen Laurence, M.D., launched KIDSUCCESS almost six years ago with three small rooms and just a few children with the goal of serving the community of Fox Lake. Programs have expanded to offer opportunities and services to 200 children ranging from six weeks to twelve years old.

"This is definitely not a babysitting service," Kathy Skender, Director of KIDS said. "This is an educational and care service."

Activities focus on new themes each week which are then incorporated into play, crafts, music, stories and other educational and enrichment tools as part of their daily activities.

In addition to the day care program for preschoolers, KIDSUCCESS offers a full-day Kindergarten program, a before and/or after school program with a homework club and a summer program. Beginning with the two-year-old room, computers are available in every room. All programs incorporate a small and large motor program, as well as rich outdoor activities.

Starting in August, KIDSUCCESS is offering a half-day preschool program. It has been developed to offer academic readiness, social skills, manners, playground sports, arts and crafts.

The motto of KIDSUCCESS is: We Prepare Children for the World. "It is our mission to prepare our children with an enriched readiness and enthusiasm for learning which will carry over to their school experience," Eileen Laurence said.

KIDSUCCESS has scheduled an open house and welcomes interested persons to telephone 847-587-KIDS/5437.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
 *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
 *Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
 *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Closing the Job Search

By Scott T. Fielschmann

When the goal of finding a job is accomplished, the job search process needs to be finalized. This does not mean that the candidate just stops applying for jobs. There is more work to be done.

Each company that has received an application should get a letter thanking them for taking the time to review it and for their consideration. That simple gesture will leave the door open for future employment. Few candidates take this step, but those who do are building relationships for the future.

Along with the thank you notes to those companies, the entries in the contact notebook should be updated with the final status for each organization that received a resume. Final recordings should be entered, and then the notebook should be filed for the next job search process. We never know when that will happen.

Those who have given informational interviews should also be sent thank you notes as should those who have served as references. They will be just as willing to serve in the next job search if they receive heartfelt thanks for the help that they have given in this search.

Finally, some time should be spent considering one's goals and aspirations in the new job. Not necessarily how to move into the next position, although for some that may be important. Some aspects of the new position will be challenging. Try to identify those rigors. Then ask yourself "How will I approach them?" "What is the goal in each situation?" "What are the best and worst case scenarios?" "How will I recognize success in this new position?"

Review the people that you have met in the new organization. What will be your relationship to each of them? Who will be the most important contacts? Who will be the people that are responsible for success?

Next, specify three goals for three time periods. Establish personal goals for the first day, the first week and the first year. Although these may change, it is good to have goals. A personal goal may be as simple as "Meet my manager's administrative assistant within the first week. Or "Start a calendar of events on the first day."

Establish relational goals for the same three periods. Again, keep them simple, like "Have lunch with one peer each month for the first year." Or "Meet with each of my four subordinates in my first week of employment."

Thirdly, establish goals that are career related. They should relate to the same time frames. "Take one advanced class on business ethics in the first year of employment" would be a good goal. As would "Volunteer to work on one of the company sponsored charities in the first week of employment."

Review these goals monthly and modify them as necessary. A significant part of finalizing the job search process is establishing oneself in the new job. Goal setting and accomplishing the goals is the first step in that process.

The ABCs

of Writing a Classified ad that Works

Avoid Abbreviations.

A few accepted and recognizable abbreviations are OK, but an ad full of them just confuses the readers. They will go on to the next ad rather than decipher yours. A good rule of thumb is "Spell it out, or leave it out."

Be Available.

List your telephone number so that potential buyers will know how to contact you. State the best hours to call so they'll know when you can be reached.

Consider Your Readers.

Put yourself in the readers' place. If you were considering buying this item, what would you want to know about it?

Give the item's age, condition, size, color, brand name and any other important information needed to describe it completely and accurately. Sell the benefits of owning the item.

Don't Exaggerate.

Misleading information may bring potential buyers to your home but it will not help you make the sale. You'll lose the prospect's trust and faith as well as the sale.

Include the Price.

Price is one of the biggest concerns of classified shoppers. Ads that list prices will get their attention first. Including price also helps you avoid inquiries from callers not in your price range.

How To Write An Effective Classified Ad.

Be Specific

Include everything your potential customers would like to know about your product or service. Be sure to mention brand name, special features, color and size. Emphasize any feature that distinguishes your product from others. Describe how your product or service will benefit buyers.

Grab Attention

Write a short, compelling headline featuring your product's principal benefit. Set it in big, bold type to catch your reader's attention.

If necessary use a sub-head to develop or explain your headline.

Always include the price or range of prices for your services.

If your prices are higher than your competitors, explain how you are offering a better value.

If your prices are substantially lower, explain why. Otherwise your readers might be afraid your prices are too good to be true.

Get Focused

Attract your customers with one large image or headline. Avoid distraction. Eliminate clutter and wordiness.

Use your logo as art in classified in-column ads. Make sure images and logos are scanned for top-quality printing. Ask your Lakeland classified sales representative about symbols, type treatments, boxes and special effects that can make your ad stand out.

Stay Simple

Use wide margins, a simple layout and lots of white space to grab attention. Use as few type faces and sizes as possible. Design your ads to let images, words and ideas flow easily.

Lead the viewer's eyes from the top of the page to the bottom.

Emphasize your business's name and phone number at the end of the ad.

Give Directions

Tell your customers what they should do. Tell them to buy now.

Give them a reason to respond immediately. Whenever possible, use coupons or special incentives to encourage prompt replies.

Make shopping convenient and easy for your customers.

Tell them when and where they can reach you. Make the commitment to be available during the hours you specify. Include your street address, driving directions and a map, if possible.

Be Persistent

Run your ad on consecutive days to reach the maximum number of newspaper readers.

And run your ad on The Lakeland Media website, www.lakelandmedia.com, to reach hundreds of thousands of Internet readers. Good advertising bears repeating.

Your first ad might start the selling process. But you might need another ad to close the deal.

Be sure you are ready for your customers when they come looking for you.

A drive that looked like it was arching to the right suddenly veers toward the center of the fairway and Dan Michler looks to have set himself up for a par attempt.

Michler reaches into his bag, pulls out his "putter" and prepares for his next shot. Standing nearly 50 feet from the target he steadies his feet, bites his lip, steadies his feet again, and lets his shot go. Slowly it approaches the target, fighting a light breeze along the way, before... BIRDIE! Michler smiles and moves on to the second hole. By the end of the day he will have birdied a half dozen holes at Fairfield Park in Round Lake. His playing partner will have played just as well.

They will have both done it without paying a dime for green fees, and without having to lug a heavy bag filled with clubs for four hours. Michler, 24, of Waukegan and Brett Comincioli, 28, of Round Lake are two of the better disc golf players on the scenic course this day. Their talents come as no accident however. Both men say they play at courses all over the county whenever they get a chance. For Comincioli and Michler that means almost everyday.

They're not alone in their love for this recreational sport. At any given time at any of the eight disc golf courses in Lake County, a handful of players are out tossing discs — not Frisbees, Frisbees are larger and don't fly as far—at targets, hoping for the lowest score possible.

Comincioli, a member of the Professional Disc Golf Association, said the game is popular for a few reasons. In addition to being relatively inexpensive—most discs cost $8-$15—it's easier to pick up than its "put the little ball in the little hole using a club," counterpart. And discs can be purchased at many local sporting goods stores.

Comincioli has only been playing the game for four years. Already he has 12 aces to his credit, and last weekend he participated in the World Disc Gold Championships in Des Moines, Iowa, where he finished 34th. Michler, who also participated, was 88th.

"To be really good you need to play a lot," Comincioli said. "It's fun. More fun than regular golf. It's not hard to come out all the time."

If you build it...

The fun aspect of the game has helped to revitalize some area parks that recently added disc golf courses.

Twins Lakes Park in Wildwood had been seeing low attendance numbers until a disc gold golf course was added this spring, said Maureen Jekot, director of the Wildwood Park District.

Since installing the course, with the help of Discontinuum Disc Golf Club of Northeastern Illinois, the park's popularity has increased, Jekot said. "We had a very passive park," Jekot said, "Now, there's always a few people playing."

Discontinuum has done a lot for area parks with disc golf courses. They help with upkeep to keep the courses playable, said Comincioli, Discontinuum President.

The group has more than 10 members from around the area. About a dozen members, including Michler and Comincioli have PDGA ratings over 900, out of 960.

Jeff Mehila, executive director of the Round Lake Park District praised the club for helping to maintain Driver—A disc designed for fast, long flights. Hardest to control.

Midrange—A disc designed for slower, more stable throw.
Putter—A disc designed for close-range, stable throws.
Backhand throw—Moving the throwing arm across the body prior to release.
Forehand throw—Moving throwing arm across the same side of body. Also known as a side arm throw.
Anhyzer—A backhand throw that fades to the right righties and left for lefties. Understable discs tend to anhyzer.
Overhand—A throwing technique similar to a baseball pitch. The disc is released at a vertical angle.
Pancake—Thrown like an overhand, but with less power.
Roller—Advancing the disc by rolling it along the ground.

Quiet companion.

Lil Josie, not to be confused with "big" Josie, is a seven-year-old mixed breed likely to have some hound or shepherd in her lineage. She has been quietly waiting for a loving home for a long time at the Save-A-Pet (SAP) Adoption Center. Pam Meland, of SAP, said, "She is great for someone who wants a calm and quiet pet." Given that, Meland said she would be happiest if she was the only pet and didn't have to compete for cookies or bed space.

Love love love

"Fagan loves to be held and petted," said Jamie Jacques of Save-A-Pet. "She loves cats, she loves kids, she loves everything." The one-year-old spayed female Russian Blue is a charmer. She's up-to-date with all of her vaccinations.

Save-A-Pet is located at 31664 N. Fairfield Road, Grayslake. It's closed on Tuesday, open 1-5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 1-8 p.m. on Thursday and 11 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. ## EVENT OF THE WEEK

County offers pet microchipping

The Animal Control division of the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center is hosting a microchip clinic on Saturday, Aug. 28 from 9 a.m.-noon. The clinic will be held in the parking lot of the Deerfield Farmers' Market, located at the intersection of Deerfield Road and Robert York Avenue.

For $10, pet owners can have their dogs and/or cats permanently identified with an American Veterinary Identification Device (AVID) Microchip. The clinic is open to all Lake County residents.

Dogs must be leashed and cats crated.

The device is encapsulated within biocompatible material that is small enough to fit in a hypodermic needle and injected under the skin of a pet. In the first five years, AVID reunited more than 75,000 pets and their families.

For more information, call 847-949-9925.

BARKIN' UP A TREE

A and S Rescue was founded in 2000, and since that time has placed 167 dogs. President Holly Fales said, "People have put dogs in this position, and we have to save them from their doom." Fales and A and S founder Silvia Simmons defend the UKC (United Kennel Club) recognized American Pit Bull Terrier and the AKC (American Kennel Club) recognized American Staffordshire Terrier, as well as the British counterpart the Staffordshire Bull Terrier, for its reliability and good fit as a family dog. Fales refers to these dogs as the "underground family pet," because the reputation of the dogs is so bad that no one wants to admit to owning one.

Prior to being branded as vicious fighters, these dogs were prominently shown with children with the two most famous dogs being the Buster Brown dog and Petey from the "Little Rascals" and "Our Gang" series.

"Whenever you hear stories on the news, it's always 'dog,' 'dog,' 'dog,' until it appears to be a pit bull or a pit bull mix, and then the media is all over identifying the breed," Fales said.

Simmons said it's difficult to find a human-aggressive pit bull. "Dogs do what you train them to do," she said. "I'm not at all for fighting dogs. But think about it, historically, the (human) handlers could go in there and pull fighting dogs apart and they weren't being attacked."

Take the case of Andi, now 7 weeks old. A and S rescued her from a "home" where she was burned with cigarettes and kept in such a small confinement that her legs hadn't developed and she couldn't walk. The purpose was to teach her to be aggressive.

Fales said, "She's doubled in weight in the week that we've had her and she's walking. She doesn't show any signs that she'll have problems down the road (either physically or behaviorally). She is up for adoption, but will require a home where someone can spend lots of time with her."

A and S has placed nearly 200 dogs in good, permanent homes since its founding. Fales can be reached at 847-833-7263.

As with all rescue organizations, A and S welcomes donations of cash for food and veterinary care as well as various supplies such as appropriate size collars and leashes, new or gently used crates in all sizes, heavy-duty food bowls and the like.

Enjoying my 15 minutes of shame

Struggling into the radio studio, the struggling writer was sweating worse than U.S. Senate candidate carpetbagger Alan Keyes.

And to tell you the truth the writer's nerves were shot but he didn't know why.

Everything was finally starting to come together in his life and he should have been sitting on top of the world.

He had just started a two week vacation from his job as a reporter/columnist for Lakeland Media when his boss called and said that his new column had been nominated for the "Best Original Column" in the annual Illinois Press Association contest.

And since the scribe's old column had won second place in the State last year, he was feeling like he was finally getting the recognition he deserved.

So it was with enthusiasm that the Mike Royko wannabe walked into WKRS radio station in Waukegan to be interviewed by the popular Libby Collins on her morning talk show.

But for some reason he couldn't stop shaking. And his premonition of fear became a reality.

Libby was everything he thought she would be, pleasant, breathtakingly beautiful and she actually told him off the air that she really enjoyed reading his columns.

But when the "On the Air" light went on, she became, as the writer has been so accustomed to knowing, just another woman that he couldn't relate to.

She read some of his stuff about being divorced out of context like "I miss having someone clean the bathroom and mop the floors" and "I miss having someone cooking dinner" and even accused the poor writer on the air of being a male chauvinist.

And the writer was horrified. He froze. He couldn't speak. His 15 minutes of fame was dragging on forever.

"And do you really think that if your wife has cold feet that that is an acceptable reason to get divorced?" she asked the now completely embarrassed writer.

He looked at his bottle of water wishing it was a beer. "Uh, you have to read the whole column," he stuttered and she cut to a commercial.

During the break she became nice again and even encouraged the writer to "dish it out" back at her but by this time he was shot.

And the dejected writer went back to his house defeated. He had blown his big chance.

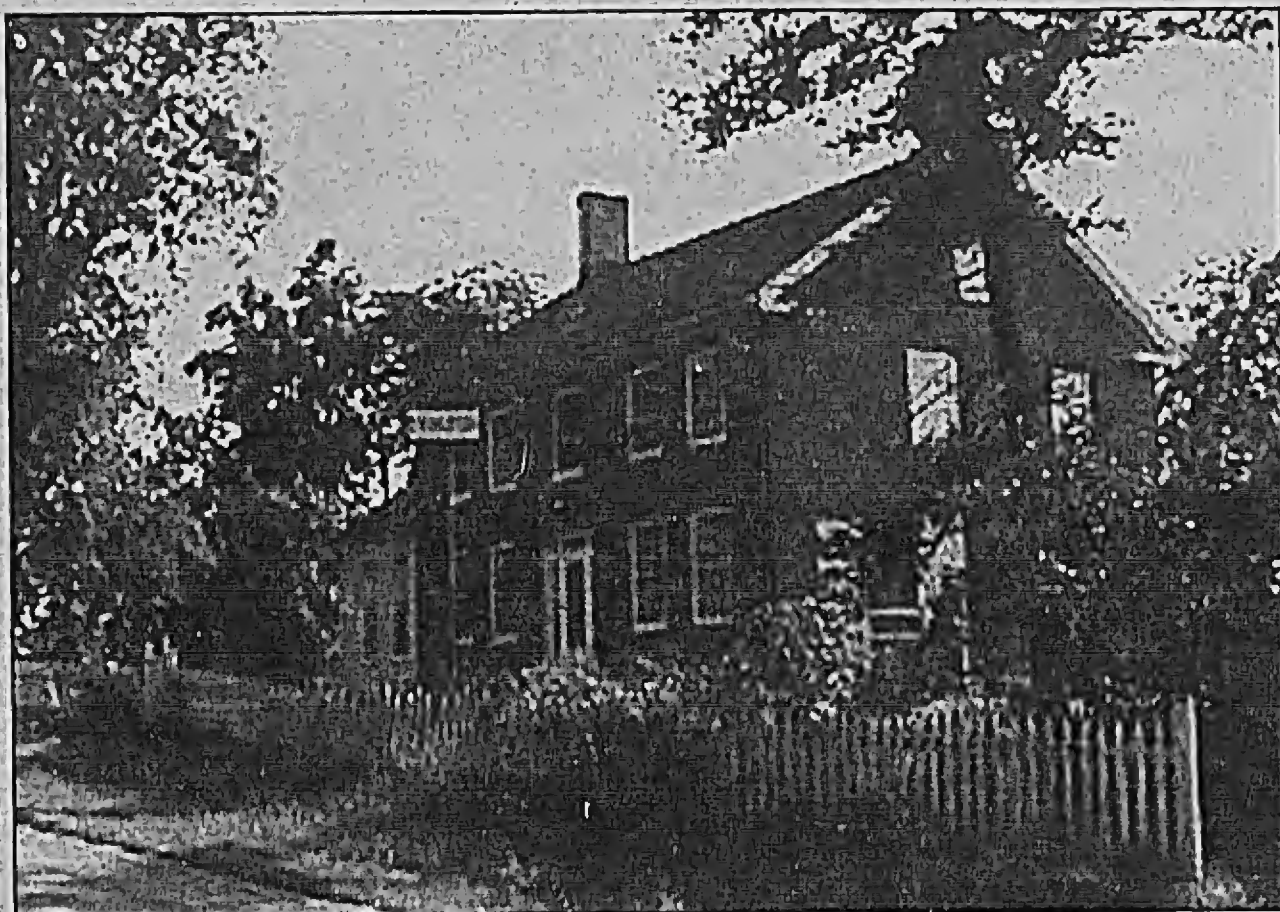

But when he got back home in front of his typewriter where he knows he belongs, his wit finally returned to him and he wrote one more line to the famous DJ: "So you think I'm a male chauvinist do you?"

Well—you are just another "Women's Libby."

Garfield Farm Museum to present the oldest show of its kind

On Sunday, Aug. 29, from 11 a.m.-4 p.m., Garfield Farm Museum will hold the 15th Annual Heirloom Garden Show, the oldest and only show of its kind in Illinois. Members of the Seed Savers Exchange and backyard gardeners are invited to display, offer for tasting or sale the historic varieties of vegetables, fruits, or antique flowers that they grow.

Located 5 miles west of Geneva, off Route 38 on Garfield Road, the show will also include tours of the 1846 inn, the kitchen garden, the antique flower garden, and the farm's prairie. There is a $6 donation for adults and $2 for children under 13 years of age. Further information is available at 630-584-8485 or info@garfieldfarm.org.

Although consumers have the choice of over 100 styles of running shoes or dozens of designer jeans, the consumer has little opportunity to buy much less learn about the great diversity of vegetables and fruits that exist. Difficult farm economics for a mass market means only the most profitable tomato or lettuce variety is grown. Yet over 500 varieties of tomatoes that come in different colors, shapes, sizes, cooking characteristics, taste and shelf life exist. With the growth of the organic and specialty foods market demand for these different traits is on the upswing.

Exhibitors who plan to attend like John Swenson of Glenview, have an incredible knowledge of their favorite cultivars. Swenson specializes in the alliums which are onions, garlics, leeks, and shallots. He has advised The Seed Savers Heritage Farm in Decorah, Iowa on this group of vegetables. Swenson has traveled extensively searching for wild onion ancestors in remote regions of the world. His original research proved that the wild leek that leaves out in the spring and is very prolific in northeastern Illinois woods is the origin of Chicago's name. This assembled knowledge would seem to be his career but he is actually an attorney by vocation. The Joe Cimmarusti family of Elburn, Ill. hopes their 60 different varieties of tomatoes will all be ready in time. Having the gardener there to explain the different traits of these tomatoes makes this a great learning event. Tips on which varieties are good for sauces, canning, slicing or stewing often are best learned by word of mouth. Dr. Jerry Skurka of Oswego also offers a large variety of tomatoes but the unusual eggplants and every color of the rainbow Swiss Chard makes his display a true kaleidoscope one would not expect to find in a vegetable garden.

Jimmy Doyle's "Flames of the Holy Spirit" hot sauce is his own secret recipe for the hot chilies he grows. This Tinley Park resident also grows sweet peppers but his heirloom chilies come first in his book. Kris and Marty Travis of Fairbury are restoring a farmstead and growing heirloom vegetables in addition to prairie and heirloom flowers. They plan to bring seed for sale though today's consumer must be reminded that most seed won't be available until after the growing season when it is then processed, dried and packaged in late winter. The Travis family not only works to produce an income from their heirloom crops but they also invite the public to come tour their downstate historic farm.

William Brough of Barrington will speak on the importance of the Seed Savers Exchange's work. In an era of genetic engineering the importance of preserving what took hundreds of years of breeding is even greater. The Exchange's collection of seeds and its international group of gardeners are all that stand between these plants' extinction.

Food and refreshments are planned and volunteers will give tours of the 1846 brick country inn that Timothy Garfield built along this once busy wagon route to Chicago. Garfield Farm Museum is being restored as an 1840s working farm museum at this 370 acres site in the center of Kane County. Donations are being sought for the restoration of the museum's buildings.

Baseball pitches the fans

Ah yes, baseball, that slice of life as American as apple pie, along with its waves of dedicated fans from sea to shining sea. Like the one sitting next to me last week at a Kane County Cougar game. When a runner didn't make it to base, this guy totally wrecked my concentration by yelling, "Hey, get that LUMP a wheelchair WOULD YA!"

At least now I have an excuse for still being at home base when it comes to understanding baseball.

Anyway, I've made some connection between baseball and a slice. Or is it a wedge? I do know players keep trying to hit a white ball out of a big sand trap. And why does that goalie crouch and make funny hand signals like he's just begging for a shot in the gut? And what's with the catcalls when a player gets three strikes in a frame, and the applause when he rolls a gutter ball for a "walk?"

Obviously, when it comes to sports, I've got the IQ of a bowling ball, and should just shut up, rather than try to convince readers I can decipher a scoreboard.

But, as a veteran journalist with months of beating around the bush under my belt, I know the public counts on me for my in-depth reporting. So I used my well-honed investigational skills to expose the gritty truth: the real story behind the story.

After playing at advertising for 10 years, I hoped at least I'd know a good pitch when I saw one.

And the advertising pitches came from everywhere. Although I was disappointed that Spider-Man didn't make an appearance, I could proudly point to my cohorts' handiwork on practically every available space, from the wide screens hawking everything from insurance to lunchmeat, to the patriotic player jerseys promoted as collector items at $135 apiece.

It even inspired me to rewrite a classic baseball song in honor of another great American tradition:

Shake'em Down At The Ball Game
Shake'em down at the ball game,
Sell like hel_ to the crowd.
Don't give it away for peanuts and Cracker Jack

When you know dam well you can take the shirts off their backs!

It's loot, loot, loot for the sales team
When advertising is part of the game
So it's one, two... endless deals to tout,
At the old ball game!

That being said, you readers are probably reeling from this crack reporter's quick take on the situation. Just remember, "lumps" like me need to crawl before we walk. In other words, please bear with me as I dribble, so I can finally run the bases for that touchdown!

Updating goat cheese tart, other French classics

Los Angeles-born, Paris-trained cookbook translator Laura Washburn has written a book of her own, "Bistro: French country recipes for home cooks," (Ryland, Peters & Small), and she has done a fine job of it.

The subject matter is far from new, but Washburn has put a contemporary spin on the classics, from soupe au pistou (garlic soup) to duck breasts with peppercorns to rhubarb clafoutis. The 144-page book, with mouth-watering photos, features many enticing favorites.

Tarte au Chevre (Goat Cheese Tart) is an elegant dish that works well served as an appetizer or for a light lunch accompanied by a green salad.

It's easy to assemble and leftovers suit the breakfast table as well.

Tom Witom

COOKING BY THE BOOK

Goat Cheese Tart (Tarte au Chevre)

1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, plus extra for rolling
7 Tbl. cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces
Pinch of salt
3 or 4 Tbl. cold water

Goat cheese filling

3 large eggs
1 cup sour cream or creme fraiche

3 goat cheeses, about 2 to 3 oz. each
2 oz. finely grated Gruyere (or Swiss) cheese, about 1 cup Small bunch of chives
Fine sea salt

Parchment paper and beans or baking weights
Loose-based tart pan, 11 in. diameter

To make the dough, put the flour, butter and salt in a food processor and, using the pulse button, process until the butter is broken down (about 5-10 pulses). • Add 3 tablespoons cold water and pulse just until the mixture forms coarse crumbs; add 1 more tablespoon, if necessary, but do not do more than 10 pulses. • Transfer the dough to a sheet of parchment paper; form into a ball, and flatten to a disk. • Wrap in the paper and refrigerate for 30-60 minutes. • Roll out the dough on a floured work surface to a disk slightly larger than the tart pan. • Carefully transfer the dough to the pan, patching any holes as you go, and pressing gently into the sides. • To trim the edges, roll a rolling pin over the top, using the edge of the pan as a cutting surface, and letting the excess fall away. • Tidy up the edges and refrigerate until firm, about 30-60 minutes. • Prick the dough all over; line with the parchment paper, and fill with beans or weights. • Bake in a preheated oven at 400 degrees F for 15 minutes, then remove the paper and weights and bake until just golden, 10-15 minutes more. • Let the tart crust cool slightly before filling. • Do not turn off the oven.

To make the filling, put the eggs, sour cream and a large pinch of salt in a bowl and beat well. • Slice each goat cheese into 3 rounds and arrange in the tart crust. • Pour in the egg mixture and sprinkle with the Gruyere. • Snip the chives with kitchen shears and sprinkle over the top. • Bake for 20-30 minutes or until browned. • Serve warm.

Order up!

CRAB STANLEY

1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup chili sauce
2 tsp. horseradish
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
2 tblsp. chopped scallions
2 tblsp. lemon juice salt to taste
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 pound frozen crab meat thawed or 14 ounces canned Alaska king crab
1 head iceberg lettuce
2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
4 lemon wedges
2 hard-boiled eggs, quartered
4 ripe olives

Combine mayonnaise, chili sauce, horseradish, pickle relish, scallions, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Mix well. Chill.

Drain crab. Reserve 4 pieces of leg meat for garnish. Slice or shred remaining crab.

On 4 individual serving plates, place lettuce cup. Shred remaining lettuce and divide among servings. Top with crab meat. Pour 2 tablespoons dressing over each.

Garnish with reserved leg meat, tomato wedges, lemon wedges, quartered eggs and olives. Serve remaining dressing on the side.

Micro-Minute

If your house turns into the clubhouse when football season starts, then your microwave is going to be an important part of the team. Today's microwaves with Inverter technology score big for making great quick snacks and dips for the armchair quarterbacks. But let's check out all the other ways our microwaves save us time and money.

• A traditional game-time favorite has to be hot buttered popcorn. Melt hard butter quickly by placing it in a microwave-safe bowl and microwaving it on Medium for 40 to 50 seconds, until melted; then mix with the popcorn. To add a little zip, sprinkle some garlic powder or crushed red pepper into the butter after melting.

• Get more juice for your fruit punches (and more for your money) by extracting all the juice from your oranges and lemons. Heat them in the microwave on High for 30 seconds or until warm, then roll them with your hand on a flat surface, cut in half, and squeeze out the juice.

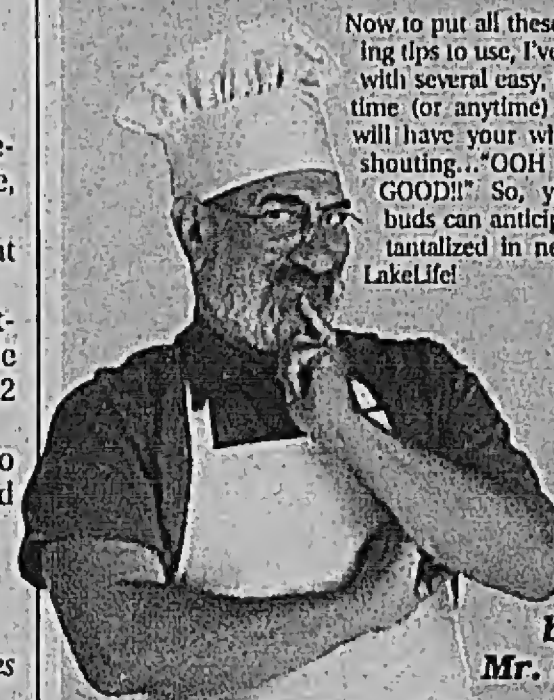

• Don't throw away that stale bag of chips! Crisp up your chips by layering them on a paper towel on a microwave-safe plate. Heat on High for 15 to 60 seconds, checking frequently, then let stand for 5 minutes. They'll be crunchy perfect again to enjoy with the dip recipes below.

• For tear-free onion chopping, before making the Onion Cheese Dip (recipe below), chop off the top and bottom of the onion, then put the onion on a paper towel in the microwave. Heat on High for 1 minute, peel off the outer skin, then chop (or cut) as desired.

• Guacamole is a treat for game-day tilling, but if your avocados aren't quite ripe, place each whole avocado in the microwave and heat on High for 1 minute, or until slightly soft. Let cool, then peel and use to make yummy fresh guacamole.

• When making a recipe that calls for cream cheese, such as Dill Crab Dip (recipe below), it's usually easier to mix when the cream cheese is soft. Unwrap the cream cheese and place on a microwave-safe plate or bowl. Heat on Medium-Low for 1-1/2 to 2 minutes then use as directed.

Now to put all these timesaving tips to use, I've come up with several easy, tasty half-time (or anytime) dips that will have your whole team shouting... "OOH IT'S SO GOOD!!" So, your taste buds can anticipate being tantalized in next week's Lakelife!

their 18-hole course. In recent months the group has placed new tees and cedar chips at the course. And later this month they are helping host the third leg of the Illinois Open Series at Fairfield Park.

Seeing Fairfield Park's popularity skyrocket the way it has is great, Mehila said.

The land where the course sits was initially to be used as ball fields, but as it laid barren the idea was pitched to put a disc golf course on the grounds in the late 1990s. Since then the course has been getting more and more popular, Mehila said.

Adding to that popularity, and difficulty of the course is its 18th hole. At 816 feet it is the longest hole in the state. As far as par 3 holes go it is also one of the hardest, said Michler, who has never parred the hole.

That holes was testing talents on a recent day at the park, a handful of players sent discs in the woods, in bushes and in tall grass. It's not unusual to see a group of players all searching together for their discs.

Coming together

Unless someone is trying to run off with one of his discs, Michler said most players get along well.

"It's great," Michler said of the camaraderie within the club, and with disc golfers in general.

Josh Styx, 25, of Libertyville said he has also noticed that many of the golfers get along with each other.

Playing the sport is a "lifestyle" fellow golfers understand, said Styx, who was out recently at Adler Park in Libertyville. Styx, who is on 30 day leave from the Army, where he is stationed in Asia, said he tries to make it out to area courses whenever he can on his break.

In fact, even when back on base, he uses the wide-open space of the softball fields in the area to practice throwing his disc.

Libertyville Parks and Recreation Director James Zych said he sees all sorts of people at Adler Park. Young and old, he said come out for the inexpensive game that also provides exercise.

Playing is a great way to get exercise, Styx said. With many holes averaging 300 feet, an 18-hole course will give you a lot of time to walk.

"You go in the woods, you come out... It's like a hiking trail," said Styx. "I would love to play all the time if I could."

Nothing corny about Bush vs. Kerry maze

Conservatives, liberals and those residing somewhere in-between can tackle the largest politically-themed gauntlet ever created—the "Bush vs. Kerry" corn maze in Lake Geneva. The maze features caricatures of President George Bush and John Kerry carved into 20 acres of corn.

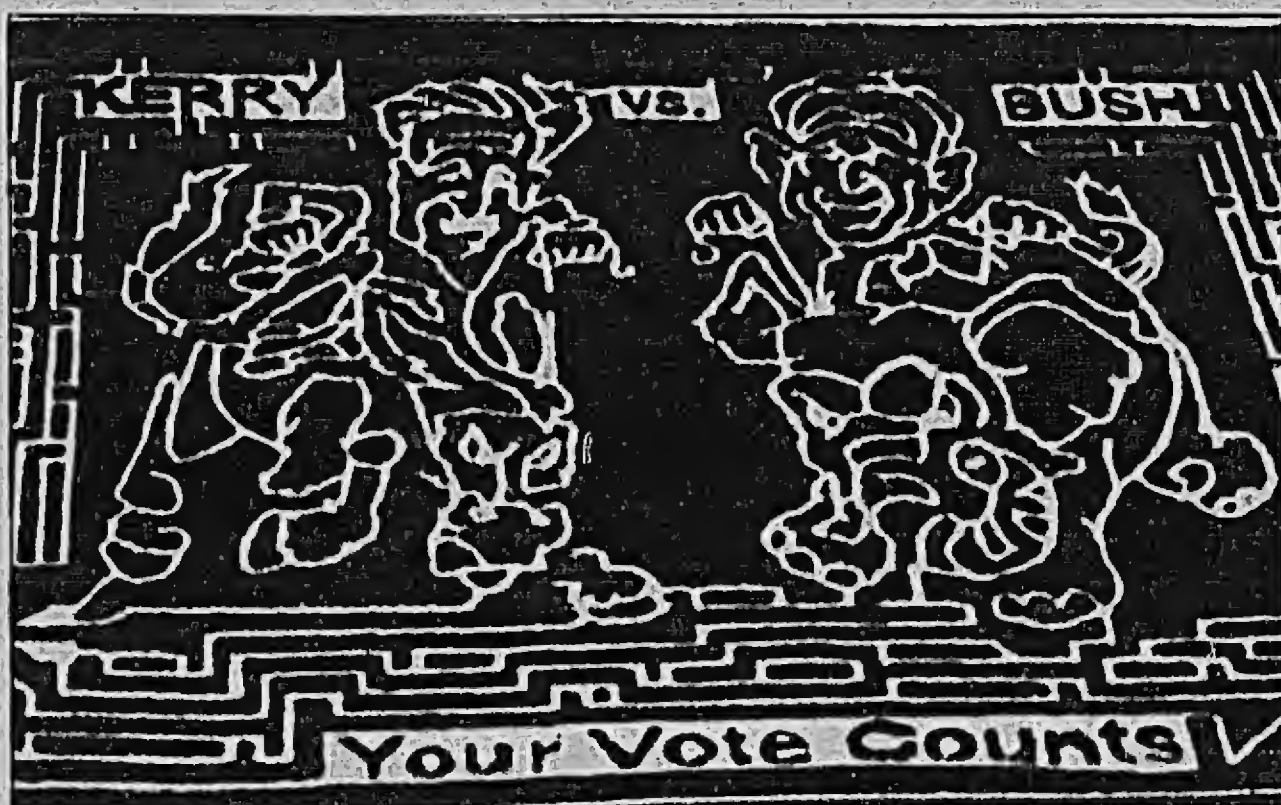

The maze depicts the two presidential candidates set atop their respective political symbols, an elephant and donkey. Underlying the importance of voting, the phrase, "Your Vote Counts," is integrated into the design. The 10-foot-high labyrinth features an intricate network of twists and turns and was created by The MAIZE, the world's largest corn maze company.

According to maze creator Brett Herbst, the fun lies in challenging the wits of those seeking to find the mind-boggling puzzles one and only exit. And while the correct pathway can be walked in only 20 minutes, most wandering maze-goers will require about one hour to travel through the more than three miles of twists, turns and decision points in each of the two mazes.

Visitors to the maze, which is appropriate for children and adults, will have the opportunity to enjoy some good farmin' fun Aug. 21 through Oct. 31. Hours of operation are Thursday and Friday evenings from 4 p.m.-10 p.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m.-10 p.m. and Sundays from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. Weekday field trips are available by reservation. The Bush vs. Kerry Corn Maze is located at Fairwyn Farms, six miles east of Lake Geneva on Highway 50. Cost is $7 for ages 13 and older, $5 for ages 5-12, and free for children 4 and under. Discounts are offered for groups of 20 or more.

For more information or to make reservations call 262-539-3047 or visit www.fairwynfarms.com.

We Don't Live Here Anymore: Married life becomes unimaginably entangled when a man has an affair with his best friend's wife. As the victims' spouses try to determine and resolve what they sense is going on, they too begin an affair. After the rose is off the bloom and each person is trying to dig out of the hole they are in and save their marriage/family, we see how unintended consequences seem to have a life of their own. Stars Peter Krause ("Six Feet Under"), Mark Ruffalo ("Collateral"), Naomi Watts (21 Grams) and Laura Dern ("I am Sam"). (R)

Four childhood friends, who once shared a tree house and the secrets of youth, are reunited as they all approach age thirty, and one of them is killed in a mountaineering accident. Only Billy (Antony Starr) had lived out his fantasies. Dan, Tom and Jerry are living lives where the new phrase "my bad" ("I'm sorry") is said frequently. At Billy's funeral the three decide to fulfill a childhood dream. They take off for the Northwest Territory, with a treasure map in hand, to find the money lost many years ago by a thief who parachuted into the wilderness and neither he nor the money was ever found.

Dan (Seth Green) was the kid who had to be pushed to do things, while the others would jump into a lake without regard for how deep or how shallow it might be. Now a doctor, Dan's such a nerd that he still can't jump into the dating pool, even when a woman he's hot for does everything to get his attention; he remains too paralyzed to make the smallest move. Tom (Dax Shepard) is just the opposite when it comes to women. For him one woman at a time is limiting. Jerry (Matthew Lillard) is Mr. "I can't get emotionally involved" in anything, whether it's his job or his girlfriend Denise (Bonnie Somerville).

As the city-dwellers embark on their journey to find the treasure, this comedy takes a bit out of the film "Deliverance," as they run into backwoods pot farmers. The gun-toting growers set out to track the trio down and shoot them when they discover the pot fields.

There's the element of a chase movie as the inept Dan, Tom and Jerry hunt for the treasure and escape from the overgrown pot growers. The three face an unwelcome Sheriff Briggs (Ray Baker) and spend time with two lovely but ditzy tree huggers, who are committed to the cause of saving some part of the forest by living in a giant old tree. The cameo performance of Burt Reynolds as a reclusive woodsman lifts the film beyond the crude humor of movies such as "American Pie" and "Old School."

Yes, the movie is lame and full of some very tired clichés, like out-running bears or what type of luck you have, yet it manages to be funny in parts. If you are in the mood for a comedy that does not try to be sophisticated, see this in the theater. If you don't see it now, this one is a must see on video, in your home where no one can see you laugh at the crass parts.

Auditions

CMJ auditions

CMJ Productions will present their fall auditions on Aug. 21 and 22, from 2-4 p.m. at 3351 Midlane Drive, Wadsworth. The shows that are being performed are Practice days: Monsters Under the Bed (Tuesday & Sunday) and Invisible Dragon (Wednesday & Sunday) on Oct. 21, 22, and 23. Aladdin (Every other Monday in September and October then Mon., Wed., and Sun.) on Jan. 13, 14, 15 and 22. Production cost is $100 per show. It includes a t-shirt and cast party. Questions please call 847-360-1336.

Book Sale

LC Extension Foundation sells popular entertainment 2005 books

The Lake County Extension Foundation is selling the new Entertainment 2005 books. Proceeds from these sales help support the University of Illinois Extension activities including the 4-H and youth programs, and the Master Gardener volunteers who assist homeowners with their gardening questions.

The Entertainment 2005 book offers tremendous savings on everything you love to do including dining, movies, attractions, travel, shopping and more. Great offers in this year's book include Hallmark "Flowers," and additional savings at Dominick's, United Airlines, Burger King, and more. They make great holiday gifts.

Each book costs $20 and is valid now through Nov. 1, 2005. Out-of-town books are also available through the Extension Foundation. If you would like to purchase a book, visit Lake County Extension at 100 S. Highway 45, Grayslake. Office hours are 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. To order a book, call 847-223-8627 or buy online at www.entertainment.com/support and use our Account# 106946.

Childrens programs

CKKC to begin again

Cathy's Creative Kids Club will begin its 5th season in operation starting September. Classes will be offered after school in Antioch and Grayslake along with programs in the evening through the Gurnee Park District.

Starting off in 1999 at two different schools in Antioch, this season brings classes to seven different schools in this area. Cathy Leafblad feels extremely fortunate and blessed to be able to share her love of the theatre with children ages 3rd grade through 8th.

If you are interested in signing up for an after school program or an evening class you can call her at 847-623-1154.

Information regarding registration for classes offered in District 34 in Antioch and classes at Frederick school and Grayslake Middle school will be sent home during the first week of school. For Gurnee classes, please contact the Gurnee Park District.

Kiddie U Open House

Kiddie University at 37240 Granada Blvd., in Lake Villa will be holding an Open House, for all interested children and their families on Aug. 28 from 10-11:30 a.m. Kiddie U. is a non day care pre-school serving children in the same location for 27 years. At Kiddie U., the staff works with the whole child developing social, emotional, and physical aspects as well as speech and language development. Kiddie U. encourages exploration, discovery, curiosity, imagination and creativity.

School starts on Sept. 7. For more information regarding the Open House or the school, call 847-356-2718.

Community

Seeking participants

The Wauconda Park District is currently seeking community minded individuals to participate in an upcoming focus group regarding park district services, programs, and facilities. Two separate focus groups will be held. The first will take place on Monday, Aug. 30 at 7 p.m. at the Wauconda Park District Community Center. The second will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 7 at 7 p.m. at the Wauconda Park District Community Center.

The Wauconda Park District would like to thank all of the people who took time to complete the park district's recreational needs assessment that was mailed to all households in late April. The Park Board and staff are busy analyzing the results of the community survey. This information together with the information collected in the focus groups will help the district re-write its strategic plan.

Those individuals interested in participating in a focus group should contact Tim Staton, Superintendent of Recreation, at 847-526-3610, since space is limited.

Exhibit

Suburban Fine Arts Center Outreach

During the month of August, SFAC faculty member and Lake Forest resident Leslie Lenz will have her watercolors on view at Starbucks in Port Clinton, downtown Highland Park.

A group of North shore artists are represented from Aug. 3-Sept. 21 at Mimosa Restaurant on 1849 Second Street in downtown Highland Park. They include Susan Chertkow and Louise Schwartz of Wilmette, Jackie Zaretsky and Inez Abrahamson of Highland Park, Arlene Marks and Diane Nelson of Northbrook, Ellen Roth Deutsch of Buffalo Grove and Rita Price of Deerfield.

The Suburban Fine Arts Center is a 44-year-old not-for-profit art center, gallery and school located at 1957 Sheridan Road in downtown Highland Park. The SFAC offers classes seven days a week for adults and children and exhibits in its Gallery on a monthly basis.

For more information about the SFAC outreach programs or about the school and gallery, call 847-432-1888.

Summer art show

Plan to spend some time at the Leisure Center on Saturday, Aug. 28 or Sunday, Aug. 29. From 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The Center will be transformed into an art gallery, complete with painting and three-dimensional displays. Many pieces will be available for immediate sale. North Shore Art League instructors will be available to answer questions about their work in Northbrook this fall and discuss class opportunities at the Park District. The Leisure Center is located at 3323 Walters Avenue. Enjoy the work of talented local artists and bring the whole family for a brand new, fun event. For inquiries call 847-291-2995.

Health

Avoid a stroke in just 10 minutes

Residents living in and around the Wauconda, community can be screened to reduce their risk of having a stroke. Life Line Screening will be at the Wauconda Village Hall on Aug. 25. The site is located at 101 N Main St. in Wauconda. Appointments will begin at 9 a.m.

A stroke, also known as a "brain attack," is ranked as the third leading killer in the world, and the second among women.

Screenings are fast, painless and low cost. They involve the use of ultrasound technology, and scan for potential health problems related to: blocked arteries which can lead to a stroke, aortic aneurysms which can lead to a ruptured aorta, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, which are a strong predictor of heart disease. Also offered for men and women, is a bone density screening to assess their risk for osteoporosis.

"If it hadn't been for Life Line Screening, I would have probably had a stroke," said Mary Coburn of Elmhurst.

Each screening requires ten minutes or less to complete. A complete vascular screening package, including the Stroke/Carotid Artery, Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm and Ankle Brachial Index (hardening of the arteries) screenings is $99. Sign-up for a complete vascular package; include the osteoporosis screening and pay only $125.

Life Line Screening was established in 1993, and has since become the nation's leading provider of vascular screenings. Over 45 ultrasound teams are on staff to travel to your local community, bringing the screenings to you. These non-invasive, inexpensive and painless, ultrasound tests help people identify their risk for stroke, vascular diseases or osteoporosis early enough for their physician to begin preventive procedures.

For more information regarding the screenings or to schedule an appointment, call 1-800-643-6188. Pre-registration is required.

Poetry Contest

$1K Poetry prize offered in contest

Poets, listen up! The Bards of Burbank are hosting their annual free poetry competition, and everyone is welcome. There are 50 prizes in all totaling almost $5,000, and the grand prize is a whopping $1,000.

"Even if you have written only one poem," said Poetry Director Dr. John Cusack, "you are welcome to enter. Indeed, if you have never entered a poetry contest before, this is your big chance. I promise you I will find exciting new talent among Grayslake area poets."

The deadline for entering is Sept. 8. Your poem may be written on any subject, using any style, and must be 21 lines or less.

Send one poem only to: Bards of Burbank, 2219 W Olive Ave., # 250, Burbank, California 91506. Or enter your poem online at www.bardsofburbank.com.

For more information email Dr. Cusack at JCusack@hotmail.com

Sports

Registration deadline coming for COED adult volleyball league

Adults who wish to participate in the Northbrook Park District's Fall Volleyball League must register no later than Friday, Aug. 27. Games begin on Monday, Sept. 13 at Northbrook Junior High School, 1475 Maple Ave. Levels of competition determine players for specific leagues. Fees are $300 per team, with $10 assessed for each nonresident on a team. Information packets are available at the Village Green Center, 1810 Walters Ave. For more information call 847-291-2369.

Answers

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

When it comes to a disagreement at work, get straight to the point, Aries. Don't talk in circles; you'll only make yourself look inept. If you stand tall, the higher-ups are sure to listen to you. An old friend needs a favor from you. Do what you can to help, because the two of you used to be very close.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

You are out and about this week — even though you don't want to be. Business and personal obligations fill your calendar through Friday. Don't start off with a bad attitude. Things aren't going to be as bad as you think. You'll actually have a good time at some of the events. Enjoy yourself. Gemini plays a key role on Thursday.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Don't back down from a confrontation when you know that you're right. Stand your ground, and fight for what you believe in. Those around you will support your efforts. The person whom you've been dating stops calling. Don't get upset. You know that the magic just wasn't there.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

While work may be frustrating, Cancer, you're in for a good week overall. Superiors recognize your efforts and reward you. As for your personal life, friends and loved ones want to spend a lot of time with you. Enjoy yourself, and relax. You've earned it. Libra plays an important role.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Your outgoing nature wins you points with an important acquaintance. He or she likes your spunk and offers you an interesting proposition. Say yes, because there's a lot of opportunity here. That special someone wants to take a break. Don't fight it. Some time apart will help your relationship.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

This is not the week to go wild, Virgo. You have several things on your plate, and a lot of people are counting on you to get everything done. Don't let them down. Ask for help if you need it. Your friends and loved ones are always there for you. You meet an interesting person late in the week. Stay in touch with him or her.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

This is your week to shine, Libra. Things go well for you professionally, and you make great strides in the workplace. Your love life picks up by the end of the week also. The person whom you've been seeing wants to make a commitment. Say yes — you know it's what you really want.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Some bad news at work has you on edge. Try to remain calm. Get the full story before you start to panic. Things will work out for you — you just have to be a little patient first. A loved one needs your help. Even though you're busy, make time for him or her. You're the only person he or she can turn to.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You have to be blunt to get your point across to an acquaintance during the middle of the week, Sagittarius. If you don't just come out and say it, you'll be stuck in a situation that you shouldn't be involved with. A close friend has good news. Help him or her celebrate.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Some very important people are counting on you this week. Don't get distracted by those around you. Stay focused. Your diligence will be rewarded by the week's end. A family friend turns to you for help. Do what you can, and be there for him or her. Pisces plays a key role.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't overanalyze an argument with a loved one. Sometimes, people just need to vent. Things will be fine between the two of you in a couple of days. Just wait it out. That special someone wants to get you involved in a compromising situation. Say no. This isn't something you want to be associated with.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Your efforts to lighten up an intense family discussion late in the week backfire. Don't get upset. Just try to help your loved ones to see both sides of the argument. A close friend gets into trouble. As much as you want to help him or her, don't get involved.

2004 GOLFER'S GUIDE

Your Guide to Lake County Golf...

Antioch Golf Club, Antioch (847) 395-3004

The year 2003 brings Antioch Golf Course a new clubhouse and a lot of excitement. Antioch is one of Lake County's best values with rates sometimes under $15. If you're looking for a course that is nice, but not expensive—this is it.

Bittersweet Golf Club, Gurnee (847) 855-9031

Still one of the newer courses in Lake County, Bittersweet is a hard course for beginners, but a nice challenge for the veteran golfer. Not the longest course in the county, but you must hit accurate irons. The scenery is also great.

Bonnie Brook Golf Course, Waukegan (847) 360-4730

One of the oldest courses in the area, but still a goodie. Lots of trees make this course very challenging. Although not as flashy as some of the newer clubs, Bonnie Brook has a classic quality that should make the course part of any golfer's rotation.

Brae Loch Golf Course, Grayslake (847) 223-5542

If you are relatively new at the sport and looking to play 18 holes of forgiving golf, Brae Loch is for you. A slice into the next fairway won't punish you too badly at Brae Loch, as you can usually have a clean shot back to your hole. The price is right as well. Around $20 can get you 18 holes with a cart.

Carillon North, Grayslake (847) 548-4713

The perfect course for the lunch-time golfer. This par-3 nine-hole club is only a few years old. Tucked just off of Rollins Road, you won't normally drive by it, but if you're looking for a quick round of golf to test your short irons—you should look them up.

Countryside Golf Course, Mundelein (847) 566-5544

Two 18-hole runs to choose from. Part of the Lake County Forest Preserve system, you will get a nice price and fun round of golf at both courses.

Deerfield Golf Course, Deerfield (847) 945-8333

Another classic course. Nothing fancy, but a good course to get in 18 holes and have a little fun.

Foss Park Golf Course, North Chicago (847) 689-7490

Been around for a while. A nice course if you're just learning to play the game.

Four Winds Golf Club, Mundelein (847) 566-8502

Nice course, wide open. If you're looking for a change in pace to your regular course, you'll enjoy a round at Four Winds.

Fox Lake Country Club, Fox Lake (847) 587-6411

Challenging, long and the pride of Fox Lake.

Heather Ridge, Gurnee (847) 367-6010

When most people think of a nine-hole golf course, they many times assume that it must be easy. This is not the case with Heather Ridge. Despite being only nine holes, Heather Ridge is one the better golf courses in Lake County. One par-five, mixed in with two par-threes and six par-fives, this is by no means your average nine-hole club. One of the best nine hole courses in the state.

Hickory Knoll Golf Course, Lake Villa (847) 356-8640

If you are looking to learn how to golf, Hickory Knoll is for you. Nine relatively short, mostly par-three holes are not the fanciest in the area, but a great opportunity to break in your new clubs and learn how the game is played. The cost is also very reasonable at around ten bucks a round.

Kemper Lakes Golf Course, Long Grove (847) 320-3450

The standard for many years. Home to professional golf championships and national golf magazines' praise. More than one hundred dollars to play, Kemper is still a good value. If you are going to shell out that kind of money you must be a serious golfer, and if you are... then Kemper is a must.

Lakemoor Golf Club, Lakemoor (815) 759-0011

Just across the Lake-McHenry county border near Route 120 and 12. This course had been in the works for years and opened recently to the delight of many. Very reasonable, its not unusual for four golfers to golf Lakemoor with a cart for under $100. Great value.

Libertyville Golf Course, Libertyville (847) 362-5733

Probably the shortest par-three nine-hole course in the county. Another course to add to the beginner's list of friendly places to learn the game. Even a good golfer can have a little fun at Libertyville by practicing their nine iron.

Marriot Lincolnshire Golf, Lincolnshire (847) 634-5935

This resort course is very popular with both Lake County golfers, as well as out-of-towners. Nice conditions, tight fairways. Challenging. Fun.

Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth (847) 623-4653

One of Lake County's finest golf courses. 27 holes of scenic fairways, challenging greens and—oh, yes—the dreaded water. If you are a fairly decent golfer, you are going to love Midlane. Also has a great nightclub.

Orchard Hills Country Club, Waukegan (847) 336-5118

Hard to find more open fairways in Lake County. Definitely not one of the hardest courses in the area, but a nice 18 hole course for those that shoot in 100's.

Pine Meadow Golf Club, Mundelein (847) 566-4653

The year Pine Meadow opened, it was named the best new public course in Illinois by one of the premier golf magazines in the nation. The reputation has remained with Pine Meadow over the years, as it remains on the top courses in Lake County. Sister club to Cog Hill --home of the Western Open-- Pine Meadow is groomed by some of the best greenskeepers in the Chicagoland-area.

Renwood Golf Course, Round Lake Beach (847) 546-8242

Few courses have change as much over the past few years as Renwood. A new clubhouse, new driving range and a modified course layout, Renwood continues to get better as it gets older. Nicely priced, especially for RL resident, Renwood is a great value, as well as a challenge.

Shepherd's Crook, Zion (847) 872-2080

Far and away the best kept secret in Lake County. This is a fantastic golf course and usually runs less than $40 a round. Comparable golf courses in Illinois go for $80+. Nice scenery, fast greens and excellent fairways. If you haven't yet played Shepherd, add it to your list.

Steeple Chase Golf Club, Mundelein (847) 949-8900

Another one of those courses that you don't drive by very often, as it is tucked away behind Countyside on Hawley in Mundelein. This is a very nice course, however, and should be thought of when planning your next outing. Nice fairways, good course.

Stonewall Orchard, Grayslake

(847) 740-4890

Home of the 2003 US Open local qualifier tournament. If that doesn't show what kind of course Stonewall is, I don't know what would. Despite being just a couple of years old, Stonewall has shot right up the charts to become many golfers' favorite club. Perfect greens and fairways, Stonewall is not the cheapest course in the area, but definitely worth the money as one of the absolute best. Ranked 5th best public course in Chicago by Golf Digest this spring.

County Forest Preserve courses, no course in the area can match the wildlife views offered by Thunderhawk. Voted "America's Best Public Course" in this year's Golfweek magazine rankings.

Village Green Country Club, Mundelein

(847) 566-7373

Another forgiving golf course, where a horrible slice won't kill your chance at a par. If you are an average weekend golfer, this club may be the answer. Not too many spots for trouble, this is your best chance to break 90. Fun course.

ThunderHawk Golf Club, Beach Park (847) 367-6640

A few years ago, three new golf courses opened up that set a new standard for Lake County golf. Stonewall Orchard, White Deer Run and Thunderhawk. The gem of the Lake

White Deer Run Golf Course, Vernon Hills (847) 680-6100

Ranks with the best in Lake County. Nicely laid out, good fairways, satellite-global positioning system on carts let you know your exact yardage to the pin, water and all hazards. Already a top five course in the area in just its first few years.

Appropriate video games for kids

With fall just around the corner, children will be spending more time engaging in some of their favorite activities — going to the movies and playing video games. While most parents are familiar with the movie ratings system, many may not understand how to select age appropriate video games.

Experts recommend the following guidelines for parents to manage their family's home use and enjoyment of video games.

All video games contain a ratings symbol on the front and back of the package. The ratings symbols are as follows:

EC (Early Childhood) — content suitable for persons ages three and older

E (Everyone) — content suitable for persons ages six and older

T (Teen) — content suitable for persons ages 13 and older

M (Mature) — content suitable for persons ages 17 and older

Before purchasing a title, check the game content and skill level requirements by carefully examining the packaging to see if the game is recommended for the child's age group.

All video games have a content descriptor on the back of the product's packaging. These content descriptors provide more details about the product in terms of language, themes and other areas that may be of interest to consumers.

Examine the pictures and text on the packaging to get an idea of what the title is about.

Make sure that the software is compatible with your gaming system.

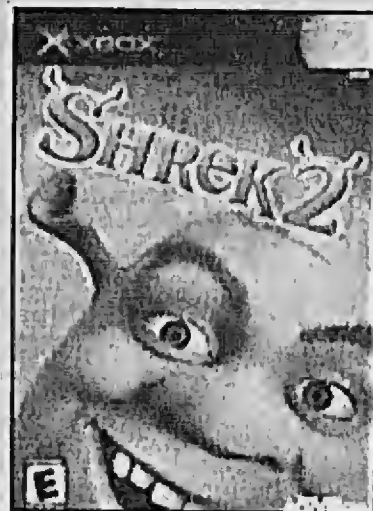

One new video game out this summer that is appropriate for the entire family is Shrek 2. Based on the sequel to one of the most popular animated feature films of all time, Shrek 2 lets players go beyond the movie as they play their favorite film characters — Shrek, Fiona, Donkey and Puss-in-Boots. Players control Shrek and his friends, with a team of four characters at a time, while choosing among up to 10 different fairy tale heroes. Players can master each character's unique skills and switch between them to solve puzzles, fight foes and complete perilous adventures as they journey through 11 action-packed levels. Kids can enjoy hours of engaging gameplay.

The game's four-player multiplayer feature allows friends to work together to find their way out of difficult situations. Players can interact with all-new original game characters and journey through never-before-seen locations and situations. Players must complete twisted fairy-tale adventures while dodging and defeating angry enemies and solving numerous puzzles.

Shrek 2's unique Hero Time sections challenge players to focus on one character for some time during each level, in order to learn more about the character's special skills and moves. Successfully mastering Hero Time allows gamers to earn more collectibles and to have access to extra content such as film stills and various upgrades.

Shrek 2 is available for the PlayStation(R)2 computer entertainment system, the Xbox(R) video game system from Microsoft, the Nintendo(R) GameCube(TM) and the PC and Game Boy Advance. The titles are rated "E" for Everyone by the ESRB and are available at Wal-Mart, Toys R Us, K-Mart, Best Buy, Electronic Boutiques and other stores where video games are sold.

The 411 on Fishing

—By Brian Janosch

As the summer comes to a close, and the busy activities begin to turn a little more quaint, fishing enters the forefront of Lake County's leisure. Between the Chain-O-Lakes and the Lake County Forest Preserve, dozens of prime fishing spots are available in every corner of the county.

The forest preserve offers great fishing locations in Lakewood, Old School, Grant Woods, Wright Woods, and Half Day Forrest Preserves which stretch across much of the southern part of the county. In north and west Lake County, The Chain presents easy access to great fishing for Antioch, Lake Villa, Fox Lake and Round Lake.

Fishing Licenses are required for most lakes and can be easily obtained by anyone who has been a resident of Illinois for at least 30 days prior to the purchase. The cost is only $13 for a year and $24.50 for non-residents.

The following is size and creel limits for the forest preserve and chain.

Proper winterizing steps insure easy spring start-up for your pool

When it's time to close the pool for the cold winter months, proper winterizing steps will ensure a quick and easy spring start-up. Remember that problems such as stains, corrosion and scale can occur any time of the year.

1. Take a water sample to your local builder for a complete water analysis. Follow your dealer's instructions to balance the water as needed.
2. Clean the pool by brushing the walls, skimming the water surface and vacuuming the pool bottom. Clean pool wall tile and vinyl with cleaner. Empty pump and skimmer baskets.
3. Clean or backwash the filter according to the manufacturer's instructions.
4. Protect your pool water using a shocking chemical. Ask your builder for details about the best product for your specific pool.
5. Protect your pool against algae. Ask your builder for the best product for your instructions and continue to run pump for several hours to disperse thoroughly.
6. Lower the water in the pool down to the level recommended by the manufacturer for winterizing.
7. Drain water from equipment such as a pump, filter, heater, chlorinator, hoses and pipes as per manufacturer's recommendations. Ask your builder if you should protect the pipes and equipment with a non-toxic swimming pool antifreeze. Ladders, chlorinator (if off-line model), pump and skimmer baskets should be stored.
8. Cover the pool using a well-designed quality winter cover to prevent leaves, dirt and debris from accumulating in the pool.

After consulting with your builder, you may decide to leave your pool open during the winter months. If so, the following steps are recommended at a minimum:

1. Operate the pump at least several hours a day or continuously if the temperature gets down to freezing.
2. Clean or backwash the filter according to the manufacturer's instructions using a cleaner and degreaser following label instructions.
3. Keep the pool free of leaves, dirt and debris.

We keep the "Community" in Community Banking

At State Bank of The Lakes, we've been serving our customers and communities for over 110 years. We offer the services and conveniences of those big banks, but we're not a big bank - we treat our customers like people, not numbers. We make decisions locally. We take the time to get to know you. Then we help you achieve your dreams by providing the financial product and service solutions you need to make them come true. If that's what you're looking for in a bank, then stop in and say "Hi!" We'd love the opportunity to get to know you.

Horseback riding provides physical therapy for all ages

Kentucky

For many people, summertime brings a chance to do something special with the kids. Vacationing, swimming, amusement parks, festivals, and a special treat – horseback riding. Usually a 45 minute to an hour ride, the entire family can get a chance to try their hand at riding Western Style. Clicking along a ready made trail between trees and streams, it is a wonderful experience for the family to enjoy together. The horse is a magnificent animal and just sitting on top of the saddle gives you a different view of the world (and a chance to discover muscles you never realized you had!)

What many people probably never even think of, however, is the healing power of a horse.

In 2001, Vickie, my then 4-year-old Autistic daughter began Hippo therapy – Physical Therapy on Horseback. The change in her was remarkable. She was excited each and every time we went to the barn. Her behavior improved and her ability to work through stimulating situations became easier. After a year of Hippo therapy I began to share board a horse with a friend from work. Her beautiful Palomino Mare, Lady, began a new era in therapeutic riding for my daughter. Boarded at a private stable in the beautiful countryside, my daughter not only got to ride this beautiful animal, but also helps groom her and feed her treats. A bonus for us was that Lady had foaled just a year before. This cute little yearling, a female paint with almost perfect markings of brown and white named Robina, endeared herself to our hearts.

Lady and newborn Robina

As our lessons and riding continued, the desire to own my own horse became stronger and stronger. When the owner of Robina began thinking about selling her, I knew that there was no way we could see this beautiful young horse leave its home – so in 2003 I probably did the most wonderfully foolish thing a new horse person could do – I purchased Robina – just shy of her 2nd birthday – to become our horse.

When Robina was 1 1/2 my daughter began to ride her bareback. A crazy thing to do with such a young horse and a young girl, but the two had bonded and the calmness of horse and the confidence in my daughter proved to me the bond of horse and child. Robina has also become my therapy – quiet mornings at the barn grooming and working with horse.

I have learned a lot about the care and training of a horse, but know there is still much to learn. These animal are a magnificent creature and the therapeutic benefits they offer to children with special needs is indeed a special job for these animals.

Vickie Kulig & Robina

Therapy comes in many different ways, as owner of Lady I find time with my horse, trail riding, being amongst nature and the exercise it provides a great way to relax and unwind. There are many different breeds of horses and many riding styles to choose from. If one has an interest in horses there is always more to learn and skills to be improved upon.

As a horse can live to be 30+ years old. Just because they are not up to trail riding or show challenges does not mean they no longer can be useful. This was especially proven by a friend's horse, Kentucky. At the ripe old age of 31, Kentucky was recently honored with a special award and recognition from the American Quarter Horse Association who recognizes Riders with Disabilities. The American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) held a horse show at BVRH, in Poplar Grove IL, where riders with disabilities were able to show off their riding skills. Kentucky and his rider won the 2003 Western Horsemanship High Point Award at this event.

Horses are also animals whose care is not to be taken lightly. Kentucky and Lady's owners volunteered at HAHS (Hooved Animal Humane Society) and have stories of horses that owners did not care for them properly. A horse's spirit can be easily broken but can also be easily renewed with love and proper care.

If you would like more information about Hippotherapy or Therapeutic Riding, visit the North American Riding for the Handicapped Association website at www.narha.org. There is more complete information about the therapy itself and locations in your area that offer this unique but wonderful alternative to physical therapy.

For more information on HAHS, call (815) 337-5563 or visit their Web site at www.hahs.org. —Story by: Natalie Kulig, Sandy Remmers, and Carolyn Samuel

Greatest Bear ever ready to hibernate at the Lake County Discovery Museum

A new exhibit is ready to open up at the Lake County Discovery Museum on Oct. 2. The exhibit will highlight the life, career and death of one of Chicago's greatest athletes, Walter Payton.

After months of hard work and labor put in by the museum's staff, the exhibit is ready for the grandest of openings. The public opening will be on the 2nd of October, but a special private opening will be held at a prior date. The private opening will welcome friends and family of "Sweetness," along with Discovery Museum members.

The exhibit will feature countless artifacts, statistics and photos from Payton. The chronological development will lead museum patrons from his early years and into college, up to his career with the Bears, through his community work and eventually on to his illness and passing in 1999.

As part of the focus on Payton's stint with the Bears, one exhibit will allow people to participate in the "Super Bowl Shuffle," and see highlights from the Bears glory years.

The museum has also produced an authentic duplication of the Bears 1985 locker room complete with Payton's very own locker. The locker will be filled with items including all of his own gear.

The next stage is a theater room featuring a giant plasma screen with NFL donated video. All the sounds and sights of the game from Payton's greatest games.

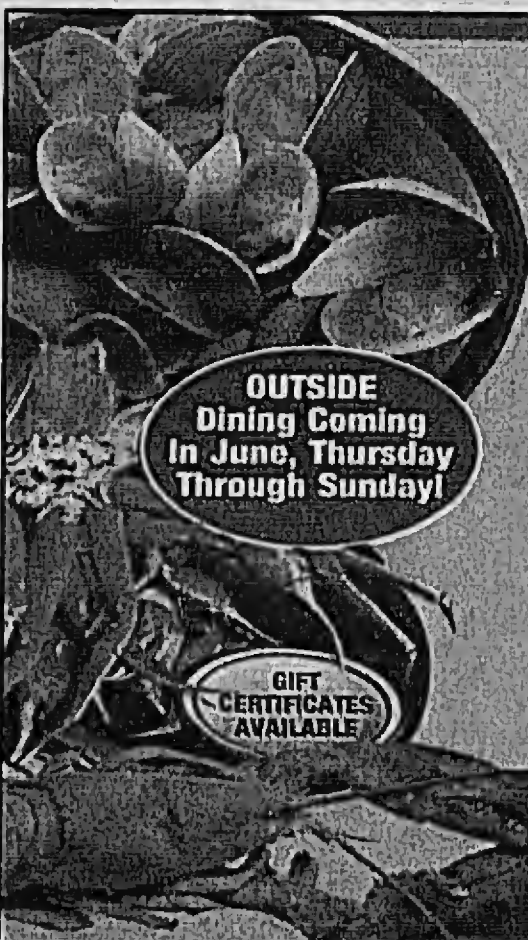

Next will come a sports bar type setting with television screens replaying the game where Payton set the rushing record.

The final leg of the tour touches on Payton's community involvement and illness. It will also have information about organ donation and other headlines that surrounded "Sweetness" in his final days.

Perhaps the most impressive artifact, however, will be Payton's very own Super Bowl ring that was donated by the Payton family.

A partner exhibit will also be running called "A Picture is Worth a Thousand Yards." It will contain photos and written statements on and about Walter Payton.

To become a museum member and gain access to the private opening, contact the Lake County Discovery Museum at 968-3400. The cost is $25 for a single pass and $40 for family. —Brian Janosch

You've got a friend...

Anthony Pontiac, GMC, Buick tries to bring friendship into the customer-salesman relationship. Rather than letting service end once you've reached the door, Anthony sees the customer's happy departure as only the beginning of another level of service.

Located on Grand Ave. in Gurnee, just west of Gurnee Mills, Anthony offers more than an enormous selection of vehicles. They pride themselves on continuing their service to the customer well after they have found their vehicle.

The service department is complete with 25 service bays staffed with GM and ASE certified technicians, a quick lube lane for quick oil changes, and a full service body shop. And as for parts, Anthony Pontiac's inventory is tops in the area.

The service and courtesy isn't withheld simply for the customers, but rather for the entire community. Anthony makes it a priority to service more than cars and customers, but also local charities and events. Anthony Pontiac, Buick, GMC continually sponsors local events along with donating to local charities. It's their feeling that the community is the reason for their success, and they owe them for that.

But the overriding reason for Anthony's success is still the selection. The lot at 7225 Grand Ave. is chalked full of over 1,000 new and used vehicles. Anthony is also home to Lake County's largest selection of GM Certified used vehicles. They are also Northern Illinois' exclusive dealer for Regency conversions.

Anthony is located 1.5 miles west of I-94 on Grand Ave. in Gurnee. You can visit them on the web at www.anthonypgb.com or call them at 847-856-3000.—By Brian Janosch

North Point Marina schedules celebration of third annual National Marina Day

Saturday, August 14, 2004, Noon till 11:00

North Point Marina, an agency of the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, announced that as part of a national observance, North Point Marina is celebrating the third annual National Marina Day on August 14, 2004.

"National Marina Day is an annual celebration of the important role marinas play in waterfront communities all across America," said Roger Mellem, Harbormaster. "Each day, this country's marinas serve as safe, family-friendly gateways to boating and stewards of the environment. We hope you will visit and learn about North Point Marina and enjoy the events we have planned".

North Point Marina's National Marina Day activities include:

- A wide variety of food and beverage booths
- Music and entertainment on the main stage
  - 2:00 pm to 4:00 pm Navy Band
  - 4:30 pm to 8:30 pm Cammi's Energy
  - 9:30 pm to 10:30 pm DJ
- Children's games and petting zoo

- Artists and crafters will be displaying their goods
- Classic and hot rod car show
- Lighted boat parade at dusk
(Parade Theme: Music! Music! Music!)
- Fireworks display after parade

"Now, more than ever, Americans need clean, safe and relaxing locations at which to spend their leisure time. National Marina Day reminds our customers and our community that North Point Marina is a local, environmentally-friendly destination serving as a gateway for family and friends to enjoy one of America's great natural resources, its waterways."

National Marina Day is celebrated in conjunction with the Marina Operators Association of America in Washington, DC, the national trade association of the marina industry.

MICHAEL LESCHER

is your key to lakeside homes

Michael Lescher

When Michael Lescher was a child he used to take boat trips throughout the Chain O' Lakes. Little did he know that those boat trips would be vital in making him one of the marquee real estate agents around Fox Lake.

Lescher bought, rehabbed and sold real estate around Chicago throughout much of the 70's and 80's until he moved to Fox Lake in 1986. He decided to buy a little lakeside resort and restaurant before he realized that the resort business was a little too time intensive.

In 1988, Lescher chose to get into real estate. Fifteen years and over 1,000 homes later, he is one of the best in the business.

"I naturally gravitated towards waterfront homes because I lived on Pistakee Lake and boated the chain as a kid," Lescher said.

Dealing with lakeside homes has become his expertise, but that doesn't make it any easier, Lescher said. Issues such as flood plains, channels and wetlands all come into play.

"With the volume of people I've helped, I've faced about every problem and experience you can face," he said. "That helps me avoid the same problem the next time. My ideals run smoother now."

Lescher said he got into the business due simply to his love for finding out exactly what each person wants, then helping them achieve their goals.

He has also enjoyed watching the facelift occur around the chain as it has shifted from a "sleepy resort town," that got quiet after Labor Day. To a clear, cut suburb with awesome recreational activities. The change has forced many to leave, but led to even more taking their place.

"Some people are moving because it is getting too busy," Lescher said. "But others are moving in because they wanted the shopping opportunities."

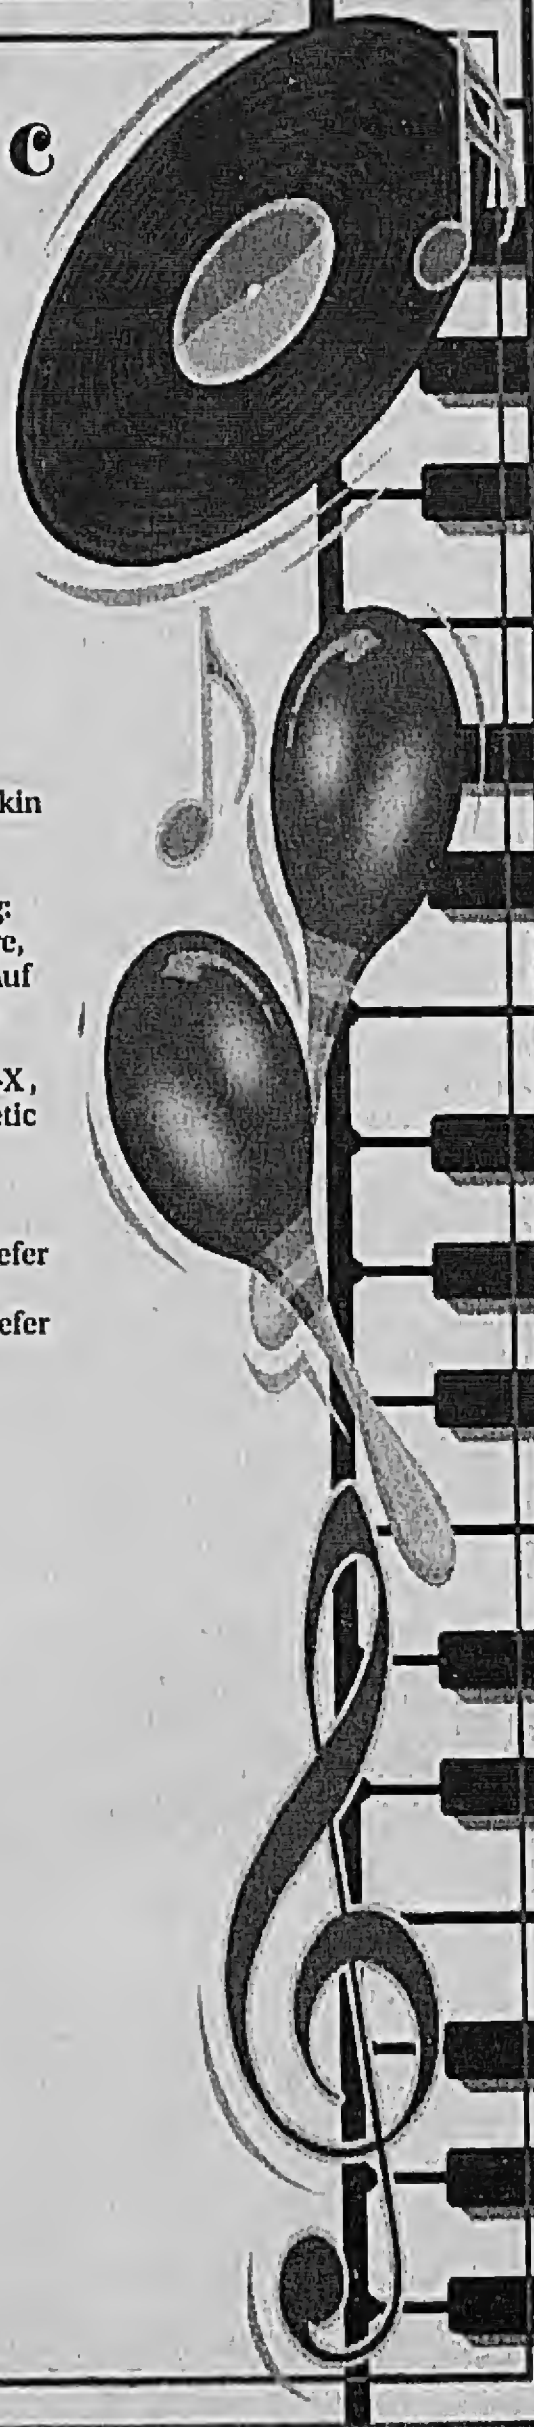

Lescher has been very involved with the economic development of the Fox Lake area as the town's President of the Economic Development Corp. He has also served on the school board for 11 years, and said he is very pleased with how far the schooling has come in that time.

Lescher will also start as the President of the Board of Realtors of Northwest Chicagoland in October. It is the third largest board in Illinois.—Brian Janosch

U.S. Cellular

Historic ships sail into Kenosha on August 4-8

H.M.S. Bounty leads the fleet showcasing history, harbor and student education

Five historic and environmental vessels will again grace Kenosha's harborfront this summer, August 4-8 for the 2004 U.S. Cellular Kenosha Days of Discovery. Focusing on history, the environment, youth education and Kenosha's prime location on Lake Michigan, the maritime festival will welcome the return of the HMS Bounty and several other magnificent and historic sailing vessels known as "tall ships."

"We have an impressive line-up — the ships are three times bigger than those we hosted last year," said Patricia Lock, port organizer. The Bounty will be joined by the U.S. Brig Niagara, a 198' brig from Erie, Pa., the largest wooden sailing ship in the Great Lakes, which is making a rare appearance in Lake Michigan. Also appearing this year is Milwaukee's S/V Denis Sullivan, 137' replica of an 18th century Great Lakes Schooner, and the Highlander Sea, a 154' schooner from Port Huron, Mich., that was built in 1924. The four historic ships will be joined by 71' Neeskay, the primary environmental research vessel from the Great Lakes Water Institute in Milwaukee. All five vessels promote history, sail training and the environment as their missions."

"The city of Kenosha is pleased to team up with U.S. Cellular once again this summer to showcase our beautiful harbor and these breathtaking tall ships," said John Antaramian, mayor of Kenosha. "This event offers great history, education, and entertainment while providing a positive economic benefit for our community. More than 60,000 visitors from Kenosha and surrounding cities and states toured the visiting ships in 2003. We're ready to host new visitors again this year."

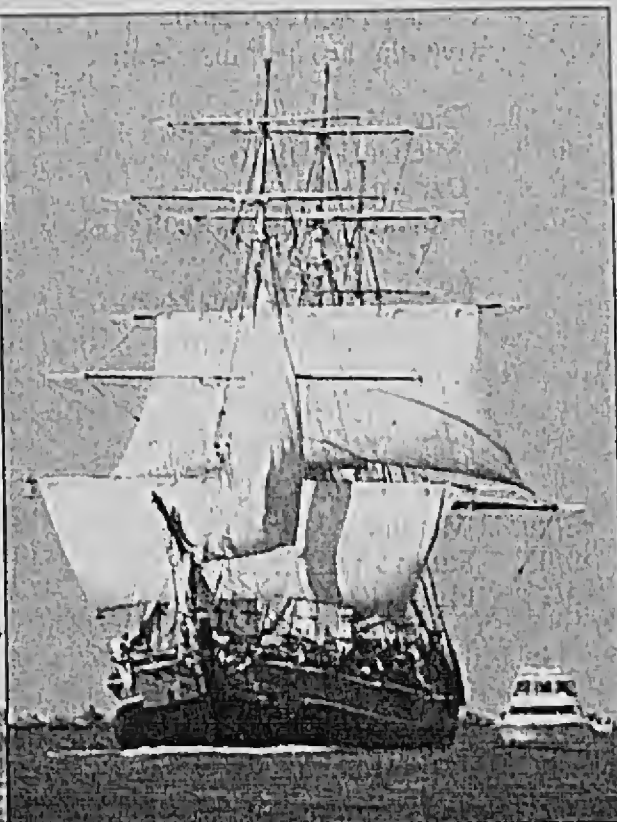

"The 2003 U.S. Cellular Kenosha Days of Discovery brought an estimated $1.2 million economic impact to the area in visitor expenditures," said Mary Galligan, president, Kenosha Area Convention & Visitors Bureau. "The festival gave the Kenosha area an opportunity to showcase our lakefront and positively impact the impression that these visitors have about our community. We expect many of these visitors will return to the Kenosha area for future visits and share their experience with friends and relatives, resulting in even more tourism and goodwill for the Kenosha area."

The event — themed "Wind, Water and Song" — will include an eclectic array of live music to match everyone's tastes, maritime and art exhibits, fireworks and great food, day sails, and many activities for children. Live entertainment on the main stage will be the highlight with a cross section of musical genres including country, shanty, Irish and jazz. Children attending the festival will enjoy roving characters and magicians, and special events such as a pirate look-alike contest on Saturday, August 7. Pier Wisconsin returns this year with new water exploration exhibits and the U.S. Cellular Kids Station will have activities such as face painting and tattoos.

U.S. Cellular Corporation, the nation's eighth largest wireless service carrier, provides wireless service to more than 4.4 million customers in 147 markets throughout 26 states. The wireless company has provided service in Wisconsin since 1985. The 20-year-old, Chicago-based company operates on a customer satisfaction strategy, meeting customers' needs by providing a comprehensive range of products and services, superior customer support, and a high-quality network. U.S. Cellular is listed and traded as USM on the American Stock Exchange (AMEX: USM). For more information about U.S. Cellular, visit the Web site at www.uscellular.com.

From left, Daytime, The Bounty and the U.S. Brig Niagara are a few fantastic ships you can see at the U.S. Cellular Kenosha Days of Discovery August 4-8.

Shedd Aquarium's most 'hands-on' exhibit ever

Sea stars

Some eat by oozing their stomach outside their body, some regenerate missing body parts, and some move along the ocean floor with thousands of tube feet. What are these bizarre creatures? Echinoderms! "Sea Star Quest," Shedd Aquarium's new special exhibit, is one of the most hands-on exhibits to date.

In "Sea Star Quest," guests will not only be able to see these fascinating animals; they will be able to touch them, too. Kids (and adults) can give a live sea star a high-five, touch a sea urchin's tube feet, and meet sea cucumbers, feather stars and other "pentamerous echinoderms." There will be a giant sea cucumber crawl-through activity area where children can explore the animal's body parts, as well as rubbing tables, where kids can cover different types of fossilized echinoderms with paper and rub over them with crayons, creating a take-home souvenir.

One of the most diverse echinoderm collections in the world, the 3,000-square-foot Sea Star Quest exhibit will showcase more than 30 species, including nearly 100 animals, in 20 different habitats. Although many people do not realize it, echinoderms including sea stars, sea urchins and sand dollars are actually animals, and have been around for more than 500 million years. Echinoderms are unique to marine life because of their external spines, asymmetrical bodies and the ability to regenerate missing body parts.

Sea Star Quest is open now and will run until Sunday, Jan. 9, 2005. For more information, call 312-939-2438 or visit www.sheddaquarium.org. For group sales information, call 312-692-3333. Advance tickets are on sale through Ticketmaster at 312-559-1212 or www.ticketmaster.com.

The Manchurian Candidate

A psychological thriller, "The Manchurian Candidate" stars Denzel Washington as Army Major Bennett Marco, a career soldier who grows suspicious about his experience in Desert Storm after Squad Sergeant Raymond Shaw (Schreiber), son of the powerful Senator Eleanor Shaw (Streep), becomes a candidate for Vice President.

The Village

In M. Night Shyamalan's "The Village," the Academy Award-nominated filmmaker, who brought you "The Sixth Sense" and "Signs," assembles an all-star cast, including Joaquin Phoenix and Sigourney Weaver and Academy Award-winners Adrien Brody and William Hurt, to bring to the screen the thrilling tale of an isolated village confronting the astonishing truth that lies just outside its borders. At first glance, this village seems picture perfect, but this close-knit community lives with the frightening knowledge that creatures reside in the surrounding woods. The evil and foreboding force is so unnerving that none dare venture beyond the borders of the village and into the woods. But when curious, headstrong Lucius Hunt plans to step beyond the boundaries of the town and into the unknown, his bold move threatens to forever change the future of the village.

Friday, August 20th

Danny Deckchair

When the long awaited holiday of cement truck driver Danny (Ifans) goes south thanks to Trudy (Clarke), his scheming girlfriend, he escapes his suburban prison and blasts into the skies in a garden chair tied with helium balloons. A mighty thunderstorm blows him clean of the map and spits him out far away over the lush green town of Clarence, where he rockets into the world of Glenda (Otto), the town's only parking cop. With the media back home run riot with the story of his disappearance, Danny gets to reinvent himself in Clarence and in the adventure discovers a true soul mate in Glenda. Fate catches up with him eventually: Danny's true identity is revealed and Trudy, now a '60 Minutes' celebrity, comes to Clarence to claim Danny and drag him back to Sydney. Danny, however, is a changed man; he's discovered what it means to live ad found a new self-worth. Saying farewell to Trudy, Danny makes a dynamic re-entry to Clarence, determined to win Glenda back again and embrace his new found zest for life.

Dates are subject to change.

Play tennis - Your body will love it

There are many reasons why millions of people play tennis every day. Many do it for the fun; others play with friends and family; some live for the competition. But no matter why or how well you play, everyone enjoys the health benefits of the game.

Playing tennis on a regular basis is good for your mind, body and specifically your heart. According to The Cleveland Clinic Heart Center, America's number one heart center as rated by U.S. News & World Report, tennis is an ideal sport for a healthy heart. In addition, it's a great stress-buster since it's proven to help lower blood pressure.

Tennis is a great full body workout and an excellent source of aerobic exercise — not just for the heart, but also for the waistline. One hour of tennis played at a moderate to vigorous intensity can burn 300 to 600 calories. That's more calories burnt than weight-lifting, low-impact aerobics, hiking and riding a stationary bike. And it's a lot more fun and social.

Whether you're taking up the game for the first time or coming back after an absence, you can find the right program for you at a local Tennis Welcome Center. Just visit www.TennisWelcomeCenter.com and enter your zip code, and you will be directed to one of 3,000 nearby Tennis Welcome Centers at a local community park, school, tennis club and health club across America.

So, if you're looking for a fun way to get in shape, pick-up a tennis racquet ... your body will love it.

FAQ's on tennis

How much time will it take to learn?

Teaching pros say they can have you hitting back and forth steadily in two hours. For most, a four-week group program taught by a pro should put you on the fast track to success.

What equipment do I need?

Like that other popular world game, soccer, tennis is the most basic of sports—you need a racquet and a can of balls. And it doesn't have to cost much. Racquets can be purchased for under $40, and balls shouldn't run you more than $3 a can.

Can I get a good workout?

Want flat abs, chiseled legs and a hard body? Tennis will help you get them. The abdominal muscles and legs are involved in every stroke in the game. Want to burn calories? For the average person, an hour of tennis will burn 493 of them. An hour on a stationary bike will burn 387. Which one sounds like more fun?

NASCAR #99, the Busch series' show car, will visit the Best Western River North, located at 125 West Ohio Street in Chicago, on Tues., August 10 and Wednesday, August 11. NASCAR fans are invited to view this car to experience the thrill of racing. The NASCAR #99 car will be available for picture taking with family and friends. In conjunction with this event, Best Western is offering a special package room rate from August 9 through August 12 of $99 per night (in honor of NASCAR #99), based on double occupancy at the Best Western River North. The package includes two IMAX NASCAR tickets, two full American, cooked-to-order breakfasts served in the room. For an additional $10 per person, guests can receive a ticket to the IMAX show and breakfast. Best Western is the official hotel of NASCAR and is the only hotel chain in the country to host an actual NASCAR racing. The Best Western River North is Chicago's only Best Western hotel that offers all guests free parking. The hotel features 150 guest rooms and suites, an indoor pool, fitness room and an on-site restaurant specializing in Chicago-style deep dish pizza. For further information or to make reservations, please call 800-727-0800 or visit www.chicagosbesthotel.com.

**Nextel also imposes a Federal Program Cost Recovery (PCR) fee of $1.55 or $2.83. The PCR is not a tax or government required charge. The fee is charged for one or more of the following: LPR, number pooling and wireless number portability.
Offers expire July 31, 2004. Local Instant Connect Plan Requires one- or two-year service agreement, new activation and credit approval. $200 early termination fee applies, after 15-day trial period conditions apply. Setup fee of $25 per phone, up to $70 max per account (some markets max of $60/account per order) applies. Unlimited Direct Connect minutes are available in your local calling area and do not include Group Connect calls, which are $0.15/min. Cellular coverage is 50 states. Cellular calls round to the next full minute. Unused minutes do not accumulate to the next billing cycle. Domestic long distance is $0.20/min. Nationwide Direct Connect calls use the Direct Connect minutes in your plan and incur an additional access charge of either: (1) $0.10/min, multiplied by the number of participants on the call, or (2) a monthly flat fee if you sign up for Unlimited Nationwide Direct Connect access. Nationwide Direct Connect calls are charged to the call initiator. Group Connect charges are calculated by multiplying the minutes of use, number of participants and the applicable rate. Group Connect can only work with members of the same network while in their home market. Nationwide service is not available for Group Connect calls. Nights are 9:00pm to 7:00am, weekends begin Fri. at 9:00pm and end Mon. at 7:00am. Up to $0.15 per sent or received text message depending on message type. Additional charges may apply and may vary by market, including state and federal taxes, a Universal Service Assessment of either 12.4% or 12.5%, in some states a Gross Receipt Recovery fee of 1.4% to 5%, a TRS charge of approx. 0.7% and a state required LPR fee. In-store purchases require two forms of valid identification. Other terms, Nextel reserves the right to modify or terminate these offers at any time. Offers may not be available in all markets. Other conditions may apply. Read service agreement for details. Nextel's Nationwide Network serves 294 of the top 300 markets. ©2004 Nextel Communications, Inc. We keep the "Community" in Community Banking

At State Bank of The Lakes, we've been serving our customers and communities for over 110 years. We offer the services and conveniences of those big banks, but we're not a big bank - we treat our customers like people, not numbers. We make decisions locally. We take the time to get to know you. Then we help you achieve your dreams by providing the financial product and service solutions you need to make them come true. If that's what you're looking for in a bank, then stop in and say "Hi!" We'd love the opportunity to get to know you.

Fox Lake Theater expands for summer rush

For quite some time now Fox Lake Theater, located on Rollins Road, has wanted to expand its services. Finally, their wish has come true.

The theater added four new screens that opened up with the debut of Shrek 2 May 19.

The theater also added a party room for summer birthdays at the movies.

"If you have kids it's a wonderful thing," Marketing Manager Mark Magaronos said. "It's not a place where they are running around everywhere. It's very organized and it's been a big hit."

The theater launched its new expansion just in time for the summer rush of big name titles such as Shrek, Harry Potter and Spiderman. And with each movie having a distinct draw towards children, that party room was simply a logical choice.

The room can accommodate up to 25 people is complete with a refrigerator, tables and a windowed front wall. Parties also get their own roped off section in the theater to watch the movie of their choice.

The four new screens are complete with over one thousand seats. And according to Magaronos, this is only the first phase.

The second phase will get under way in the fall when improvements will be made to the lobby, concessions and box office. The hopes are that the project is completely finished by the holiday rush.

"This has been on the drawing board for a long time and we are absolutely tickled," Magaronos said. "When you can take something good and make it better, it's really win-win."

Perhaps the thing that makes Magaronos most proud, however, is the fact that ticket prices have remained the same. Despite all the improvements and construction, the customers weren't the ones losing out. Prices remain at $4.50 for a matinee, $6.50 after 6 p.m. and $5.50 for students.

Magaronos hopes that when the summer heat starts getting to the people of Fox Lake and Lake County, they will turn to the Fox Lake Theater for a positive, indoors experience with some of the best movies of the year. —By Brian Janosch

Motorcycles make summer travel more

You've heard the phrase "getting there is half the fun." Well, for motorcycle enthusiasts, getting there is the whole point. Traveling by motorcycle is a completely different experience than going by car.

Rather than being enclosed in a metal bubble, listening to the radio, protected from the elements and removed from the outside world, bikers experience the world around them — they have a full view of the scenery, they feel the wind and they smell the great outdoors. Your whole mindset is different when traveling by motorcycle — less focused on the quickest route between two points, more inclined to enjoy the journey, wherever it takes you. Not to mention the adrenaline rush of experiencing the open road on a powerful motorcycle.

If you're planning a motorcycle road trip, make sure you'll be comfortable enough on your bike to log the necessary miles every day. That doesn't mean you have to sacrifice exhilaration for comfort.

No matter what type of bike you ride, make sure it is top condition before hitting the road for an extended trip. If you're in the market for a new motorcycle this summer, look for those that incorporate safety features such as 4-piston brakes for superior stopping power and vibration-resistant mirrors for improved visibility. LED turn signals and brake lights provide both brilliant luminosity and improved longevity and reliability. LEDs are also less susceptible to vibration than lights normally used on motorcycles.

While you can't control the weather, you can be prepared for it. Check weather forecasts and road conditions before heading out each day. You may not always avoid bad weather, but you can be prepared for it. Have rainy-weather gear such as rainsuits — preferably brightly colored, full-face helmets or at least goggles, and gloves easily accessible. For wintry riding, consider layers of fleece, waterproof boots and gloves, and heatsuits.

Plan your route — either a little or a lot. For some riders this means picking a general direction in which to head, while others like to map a detailed itinerary. Do you want to take the scenic route, or the highway? A good map will help get you where you want to go, regardless of the tactic you choose.

5K race hopes to raise 20K for autism

Roughly one out of every 250 children born will be diagnosed on the autism spectrum. The fact is, autism is a bigger problem than most people recognize, and recognition is exactly what the Northeast Illinois Chapter of the Autism Society of America is going for.

"We are always looking for community awareness," Race Director Eric Smith said. "There is a large amount here in Lake County and we need the community to be aware of us and accept us."

This year's Rally For Autism will be held on Saturday, August 21 at Libertyville's Independence Grove. The races start at 9 a.m. and awards will be given for different age levels.

Last year the Rally For Autism brought about 300 people and raised over $13,000. Racers can enter by making a $25 donation or gathering over $100 worth of pledges.

In the race's first year (last year), several runners were able to gather over $700 worth of pledges while one was able to gather $1,300.

Smith hopes that the increased advertising and the support of WXLC broadcasting from the event will help achieve their goal of doubling attendance.

Children will also get their own fun activity called the Kid's Goody Grab which consists of a four to five stop run with goodies available at each stop. The kids will run from table to table gathering up all that they can.

The range of people in attendance last year covered five states and hit ages seven to 70.

Many children and adults who suffer from autism also attended to support the rally. The biggest goal for the day isn't necessarily raising the money, but rather raising awareness.

"There are kids who don't respond to treatments and therapy," Smith said. "But they still have to live. Parents don't have the opportunity to have their child live a sheltered life."

Independence Grove is located just east of Milwaukee Avenue on Route 137. Eric Smith can answer any questions at 847-543-4502 or by Email at Rally4Autism@aol.com. You can register for the race at www.signmeup.com/24471.

Fifty years of fishin' fun

Fifty-one years ago Julian Dvorak had a hobby of trout fishing. Quickly the hobby became a job, and that job became a thriving business.

Dvorak's daughter, Dorothy Miller, now runs the family business known as Lake Julian, and is one of the last remaining trout ponds in Northern Illinois.

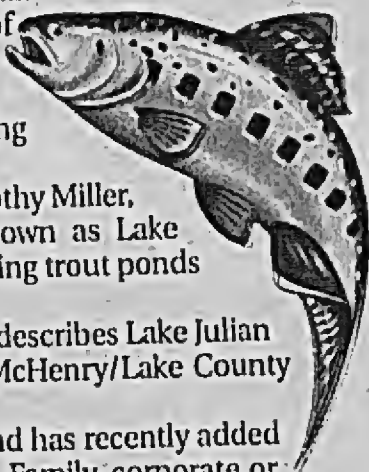

Located on Rt. 14 in Cary, Miller describes Lake Julian as "a little bit of 'country' in this McHenry/Lake County urban sprawl."

The farm offers trout fishing and has recently added a picnic shelter for private parties. Family, corporate or even birthday parties can all use this new feature for a fun get together.

Miller makes it her philosophy to maintain the farm for affordable family fun.

The farm is not open on Monday or Tuesdays, but is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. other weekdays. On weekends and holidays the farm is open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Stop by Lake Julian in Cary for fishing fun at an affordable price.—By Brian Janosch

BUYING A BOAT?

What you will need to know

Summer is in full swing and millions of Americans are taking their boats out on the water to enjoy fishing, water skiing and wakeboarding, while others will gather with friends on their boats to cookout, picnic or just relax. And, thanks to the lowest interest rates in 40 years and easy financing terms, there's never been a better time to take the plunge and buy your first boat, or upgrade to a larger model.

When purchasing a boat, the most important thing you need to do is consider what activities you'll enjoy while on it. Then you have to determine which boat is right for your budget. Just as important is checking whether the boat you buy is certified by the National Marine Manufacturers Association (NMMA), the trade association for the recreational boating industry.

The United States Coast Guard requires most boats to meet a set of minimum safety regulations. "NMMA Certified boats not only meet the safety regulations of the U.S. Coast Guard, but they are also built to meet the more comprehensive industry standards established by the American Boat and Yacht Council (ABYC)," says NMMA's Tom Marhevko, a former U.S. Coast Guard captain. "Choosing an NMMA-certified boat is one of the best and easiest ways to be sure you're getting a quality boat."

To receive certification, a manufacturer's entire line of boats must meet the standards; every model is inspected regularly at the factory. When buying a boat, look for the "NMMA Certified Using ABYC Standards" label, which shows that the craft's key safety systems have been thoroughly examined by a third-party inspector.

Boaters have different priorities when choosing a new boat. They look at the size, determine how much they can spend and decide which boat is the best for their lifestyle. They also need to consider safety, and by purchasing a boat that's NMMA Certified, they can be confident that the electrical systems, powering, flotation, fuel systems and navigation lights on their new boat meet the highest industry safety standards," says Marhevko.

Consumers can look for the NMMA Certification sticker or label on the boat's windshield or near the capacity label. They can also ask the dealer to show them NMMA Certified boats, or find a particular boat manufacturer at www.nmma.org.

For a listing of boat shows in your area, go to www.discoverboating.com.

The buzz on bee stings

There's a buzz in the air and it's not a friendly one. Now that summer is here, legions of stinging insects have begun their carnivorous assault on outdoor activities across America. These hostile marauders often leave in their wake: widespread fear, painful stings and even death. If you find yourself under siege, resist the temptation to launch a counter strike. This type of retaliatory action is best left to the professionals. If you become a sting victim, a trip to the hospital may be in order.

According to the American College of Asthma, Allergy and Immunology, most insect stings result in a normal reaction. Symptoms include: pain, swelling, itching and redness confined to the sting site. Recommended treatment includes: gently disinfecting the area, using ice to reduce the swelling and using topical steroid ointments or oral antihistamines to relieve the itching. Sometimes a normal reaction can be rather large—extending well beyond the sting site (a sting on the wrist may cause the entire arm to swell). If this situation persists for more than a day or two, a physician should be consulted.

For one to two percent of the population, an insect sting reaction will be allergic in nature. This type of reaction is characterized by: hives, itching and swelling in areas other than the sting site; tightness in the chest and difficulty in breathing; dizziness or a sharp drop in blood pressure; unconsciousness or cardiac arrest. An allergic reaction can occur in minutes after the sting and may be life threatening or even fatal. Immediate medical attention is required and may involve the administration of certain drugs and in some cases intravenous fluids, oxygen and other treatments. Because there is a 60% likelihood of a reoccurrence upon re-sting, allergic patients should seek follow-up care from an allergist. This specialist will evaluate a patient's allergic condition and may prescribe an insect sting kit for emergency treatment and/or immunotherapy, a highly effective vaccination program for life-long protection against allergic reactions. It was recently shown in a study published in the "Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology," that most people who are allergic to insect stings who undergo a two-year vaccination program will have a prolonged benefit and a permanent loss of allergy.

For persons interested in learning more about allergic reactions to insect stings, a free brochure written by the American College of Asthma, Allergy and Immunology is available by calling 1-800-23 STING.
